COMMITTEE FAVORS BILL GIVING CITIES RIGHT TO MAKE ICE

Measure Can Be Used as Club to Keep Manufacturers in Line, According to Mr. Blackburn.

1,217 BILLS INTRODUCED IN HOUSE AND SENATE

General Judiciary Committees Kill Many Measures on the Ground Georgia Already Has Too Many Laws.

Every incorporated city and town in Georgia will be given the right, without any special charter provision, to manufacture and sell ice under a bill that was reported favorably by the general judiciary committee, No. 1, of the house Wednesday afternoon.

If this bill is passed by the house and senate and signed by the governor any town or city in the state, which has been incorporated, can own and operate an ice plant.

The bill is peculiarly sweeping in its character because of its general application of a legalized right which is usually delegated to incorporated municipalities by charter.

Can Sell at Cost.

If this bill becomes a law all the large cities in the state can manufacture and sell ice to its citizens at actual cost, just as many of them now sell water, gas or electric light.

If the right is taken advantage of in a number of towns and cities shippers of fruit, fish and vegetables may be supplied with ice by municipalities.

The bill was not without opposition in the committee, and when the vote was taken there were seven for it and four against it. Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton, spoke for the bill. He said that every town and city incorporated by the state should have as much right to make and sell ice as they did to sell any other necessary commodity like gas, water and light.

"We all believe there is an ice trust," said Mr. Blackburn. "Here in Atlanta the ordinary citizen who cannot buy ice in large quantities has to get it from wagons, and what is usually sold from wagons is the sort of ice known as 'frosted.' If Atlanta and other large cities do not manufacture ice, a law that authorized them to do so will be a hammer over the heads of the manufacturers that will keep them in line."

Mr. Miller, of Bibb, and others who spoke against the bill took the position that the law was too sweeping and that such a power should only be delegated to towns and cities by charter enactment. They did not think a city had any more right to make and sell ice than it had to engage in any other business for profit.

While no notice was given of a minority report, it seems almost certain that there will be opposition to the bill on the floor of the house when the measure comes up for final passage.

1,217 Bills Introduced.

There have been introduced in the senate and house of the legislature of Georgia at the present session 1,217 bills. Of these, 942 have been introduced in the house and 275 in the senate.

And they are still coming at the rate of between twenty and thirty a day.

The lawmakers of the state, despite the fact that the civil and criminal codes are already replete with all kinds and assortments of laws, seem to think that Georgia is still short on law.

This was brought out by Mr. Davidson, of Putnam, at a meeting of a house committee Wednesday afternoon, when the committee was killing bills as fast as possible. Mr. Davidson continued to monotonously move: "That we report that the bill do not pass." He explained his stereotyped motion by adding: "We have more laws now than are needed, and instead of passing more we should repeal a few that we already have."

The general judiciary committee No. 2 turned down the following bills:

Many Bills Turned Down.

To require that goods made by convict labor be so labelled.

To permit superior courts to try misdemeanor cases.

To require hotels and boarding houses to have fire escapes.

To prohibit setting aside judgments unless substantial injustice can be shown.

To prohibit marriage licenses to males and females under 18 years of age.

To prohibit any person from conspiring to commit crime.

To empower the governor to designate what superior court judge shall serve in place of a disqualified judge.

To make it a misdemeanor for justice courts to garnishee against the law.

To provide for the establishment and quieting of land titles.

To provide that fathers shall support willfully abandoned children.

To amend section 716 of the penal code.

To amend the act in reference to mortgage foreclosures.

To make equity in property subject to levy and sale.

To prohibit detectives from giving out information.

To encourage owners to have swamp lands drained.

To amend the law prescribing the duties of sheriffs.

To amend the act relating to fees of county treasurers.

To provide that exemption against garnishment be limited to $1 a day out of wages when the debt is for food, clothing and other necessaries.

The above shows how one committee is trying to kill bills.

A Few Favorable Reports.

The same committee reported favorably a bill by Mr. Melson, of Clayton, to amend the code relative to elections that county precincts can be kept open until 5 o'clock p. m.

The same committee reported favorably on a bill by Mr. Sheppard, of Sumter, providing that publication of notice be sufficient service in suits when the address of the defendant is not known.

An important bill by Mr. Wimberly and Mr. Fowler, of Bibb, to regulate and control trusts and illegal combinations in suppression of trade, was referred to a special committee.

The general judiciary committee, No. 1, turned down the following bills:

To provide for sessions of the legis-

FIVE ARE INJURED IN CAR STAMPEDE

Passengers Become Panic Stricken When a Sheet of Fire Flames Up From Controlling Box.

When a sheet of fire flamed up from the controlling box on the front platform of a Soldier's Home street car, which left town at 6:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the corner of Decatur and Pratt streets, a score of men stampeded for the steps and leaped from the moving car to escape being burned.

In the wild rush Detective W. C. Patrick, of the city police force, who was going to his home at 27 Harold avenue, was pushed from the platform to the streets, receiving severe body bruises and cuts, necessitating his going to the Grady hospital for treatment.

The detective was standing next to the steps, and as he was shoved to the ground other men jumped on him in their wild leap from the car.

The car was loaded with passengers, and the women passengers began a rush from the rear and front platforms in order to escape. Two or three went into hysterics, and many screamed with fear.

Detective Chewning chanced to be standing in the doorway at the front end of the car, and he avoided a stampede among the women passengers by quickly closing the door, and refusing to allow any of them to get on the front platform where they could leap from the car until it was brought to a stop.

Four passengers, hurt slightly in the stampede, went to the Grady hospital. As their injuries were not serious, they gave no names, but left the hospital shortly after having their bruises dressed.

WILD RIDE IN AUTO DOWN A MOUNTAIN TO DEATH IN RIVER

Kennett, Cal., July 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Webber, of Berkeley, Cal., was drowned today at the end of a wild ride down a mountain side in an uncontrollable automobile that shot from the bank of the Sacramento river, leaped across a flat ferry boat and plunged into the river.

Z. K. Horton and his mother, Mrs. C. E. Horton, who were in the automobile with Mrs. Webber, swam ashore. The body of Mrs. Webber was found four hours after the accident 12 miles away. Five thousand dollars in currency lies at the bottom of the river in the wrecked automobile.

War to the Last Ditch For Mexican Factions; Peace Hopes Are Gone

REBEL SHOTS HIT GUNBOAT MACHIAS

U. S. Warship Again Forced to Use Her Guns at Puerta Plata--Intervention in San Domingo Likely.

Washington, July 8.—Reckless firing Dominican rebels sent several shots against the hull of the American gunboat Machias in Puerta Plata harbor late last night, and drew upon themselves a warning volley from the Machias' three-pounder and automatic rifles. The shooting from shore stopped immediately.

A few days ago the gunboat used her main artillery of four-inch guns to silence President Bordas' batteries, which were bombarding the rebel garrison holding the city, in violation of the agreement that the lives of foreigners and other non-combatants would not be endangered by artillery fire.

Reporting the latest incident to the navy department tonight, Captain Russell, of the battleship Carolina, said considerable scattering rifle fire from the rebels passed over the Machias and some shots struck her. Later, the dispatch said, the "junta commission of legalistas" representing the revolutionists, boarded the Machias and gave assurances of their desire to avoid endangering the safety of Americans.

Four Revolutions Under Way.

With four separate revolutions raging and the American minister returning home after several months of fruitless efforts to restore peace, the little republic of San Domingo is causing the Washington government grave anxiety. The United States is morally bound to maintain order there under the semi-protectorate created by treaty.

Today's reports showed no improvement. For many months President Bordas, obliged to maintain himself in office by extra-official decrees and partial elections, has been leading his troops unsuccessfully against rebellious generals in the north. Meanwhile revolutions have broken out in other sections—at Asua, where the government navy found it necessary to destroy the custom house, along the line of railway between Sanchez and Samana bay, at Monte Christi and at La Romana in the southeast. In this last neighborhood there are extensive American-owned plantations, agents for which appeared at the state department today looking for protection for their property.

United States May Act.

A conviction is growing here that only through powerful outside influence and probably that of the United States can chaotic conditions be terminated. The revolutionists appear unable to overcome the Bordas government but Bordas has not been able to defeat his enemies. Mr. Vick, the American collector of customs, has resigned and now Minister Sullivan is returning, leaving Secretary White in charge and without any definite assurances that he will ever resume his official duties.

The state department is reluctant to intervene forcibly and it is expected an effort will be made to send some strong man to the republic who may bring all elements together. Meanwhile the navy is maintaining a considerable fleet in Dominican waters, including the South Carolina and Machias at Puerta Plata, the Marietta at Sanchez and the Castine at Azua. Other vessels are on the Haitien end of the island.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF CHARITY WORKER

Body of Mrs. Frankie Barkshadt Found Wednesday Afternoon in a Closed and Locked House.

A 7-year-old boy and an aged confederate veteran yesterday found in a house at 151 Luckie street the dead body of a woman, apparently of middle age, which later was identified as that of Mrs. Frankie Barkshadt, who at one time was a well-known church worker, being active in the support of the old Barclay mission on Marietta street.

The police were notified and Call Officers Haslett and Barfield investigated the death. They found the house closed, every door and window being locked, and the shades pulled down.

According to their story the woman's body, clad only in a thin chemise, was lying face-upward across a bed. On the floor beside the bed was an overturned chair and two bed pillows. These led the police at first to believe that a struggle had preceded the woman's death.

A large crowd of people were attracted to the premises of the one-story house, and watched closely the proceedings of the police investigation.

Hoyt Rhinehart, the young boy, living at 149 Luckie, who, with P. V. Hollinshed, the veteran of Marietta, Ga., found the body by peeping through a window.

The woman's body was removed from the house, and taken in charge by Harry G. Poole, undertaker.

It was learned that Mrs. Barkshadt had been working for Lynch, the tailor, at 5½ Auburn avenue, for some time, employed as a vest maker.

A neighbor stated that recently Mrs. Barkshadt had complained to her that she had had a slight stroke of paralysis and feared that another would probably end her life.

The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of Harry G. Poole, and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Carranza and Generals Spurn Offer for a Peace Conference With the Representatives of Huerta.

REBELS ARE RESOLVED ON COMPLETE CONQUEST

And Then Country Will Be Ruled by Martial Law--An Early Statement Is Expected From United States.

HUERTA HEARS THAT WOMAN HAS ASSASSINATED VILLA

Mexico City, July 8.—A report made public by the Gobernacion department today said General Villa had been assassinated at Torreon by a woman.

Laredo, Texas, July 8.—The constitutionalists are unlikely to accept the offer of the Niagara mediators for a conference with representatives of Huerta, to arrange a provisional government in Mexico. This announcement, coming from unquestioned sources, reached the border here today.

It was declared by arrivals here that the generals of the constitutionalist army to whom the question was submitted for advice by General Carranza had, with the exception of the generals of Obregon's division who have not yet had time to report, strongly opposed any such conference.

Answer Not Yet Sent.

Carranza's answer declining to confer has not yet been sent to the mediators, but no doubt was expressed by those in close touch with the situation as to what that answer would be, according to travelers from Saltillo.

The constitutionalists' position, it was said, is that an agreement to accept a provisional government must cause the outbreak of other revolutionary movements. They pointed to the happenings following Madero's agreement to allow De La Barra to become provisional president, and declare that the agreement for a provisional government would scarcely have been entered into with the followers of Huerta before a dozen new revolutionary movements would spring up in as many different quarters.

The constitutionalists declare that the reforms for which they are striving only can be placed in successful operation without loss of time by a government under military rule such as Benito Juarez operated in Vera Cruz in the 60's.

To Expect the Impossible.

They emphasize this by calling attention to the fact that any provisional president, to take legal action of any sort, must convene congress as at present constituted, and depend upon that body to ratify his acts until an election should have been held. To obtain reforms or satisfactory action through a body under the complete dominion of Huerta, the constitutionalists say would be to expect the impossible.

General Carranza, it is said, has given assurances that if the Tampico gateway is opened and he can obtain through that port arms and ammunition and supplies, he will take Mexico City within a very short time, establishing peace on a firm basis under military rule until it is possible to hold a fair election.

NEWS OF REJECTION PARTIALLY CONFIRMED

Washington, July 8.—Border dispatches stating that the constitutionalists would not enter informal peace conferences with Huerta representatives were partially confirmed here tonight. Rafael Zubaran and Luis Cabrera, the two most prominent Carranza representatives here, had nothing to say, but word that most of the constitutionalist generals to whom the plan for conferences had been submitted had disapproved it came from well-informed sources.

Minister Naon, of Argentina, the only one of the mediators in Washington, read the dispatches with evident surprise. He indicated that the mediators would take no action until the attitude of the constitutionalists was learned officially. Secretary Bryan said it would be improper for him to discuss the situation in advance of the arrival of Carranza's formal answer to the pending proposal for peace conferences.

That constitutionalist leaders strongly oppose the idea of peace conferences did not surprise officials who have maintained it would be virtually impossible to modify the plan of Guadaloupe, the platform of the constitutionalist movement. This plan declares a military government shall be set up after Mexico City is conquered, and that no elections shall be held until the country is pacified by military rule. The present purpose of the constitutionalists, it is understood, is to follow that program to the letter.

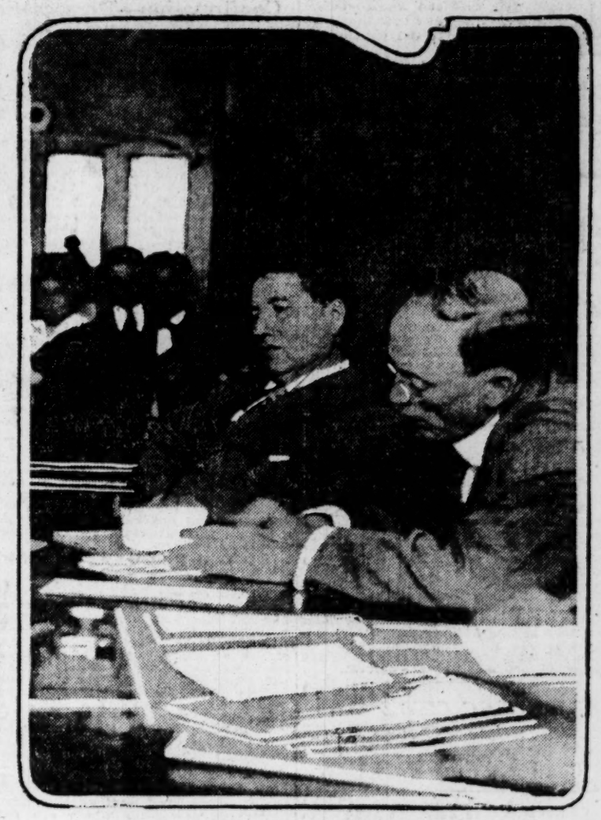

Carranza-Villa Trouble Settled.

Reports from Torreon that differences between Carranza and Villa had been composed were verified today by agents of both, but there was an undertone of comment, indicating that it was but a temporary truce. The break has had a disorganizing effect politically in the constitutionalist ranks, and evidences of it are manifest in Mexican circles here. Reports from the border today said one of the conditions of the agreement between Carranza and Villa was that Rafael Zubaran be retired from his post as head of the constitutionalist agency here.

Mr. Zubaran and Mr. Cabrera have worked hard to bring about informal conferences with the Huerta delegates, who are now in New York awaiting word through this channel of information. Whether Zubaran and Cabrera will be authorized to speak for the constitutionalist movement much longer,

Husband of Accused Woman on Stand

DR. EDWIN CARMAN ON STAND.

The strange murder case of Mrs. William D. Bailey, who was mysteriously shot to death in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, at Freeport, N. Y., has been further complicated by the statement of Dr. Carman that he was shot at several times while out in his auto on professional calls. The case was first made especially sensational when it was revealed that Mrs. Carman, the doctor's wife, had spied on him when he had women patients by means of a dictograph.

18 CANDIDATES FOR DIRECTORS

Amorous, Hillyer, Toole, Etheridge and McCrary Are the Georgians Nominated at Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., July 8.—The convention of the representative banks and bankers, comprising the sixth district of the federal reserve bank, this afternoon nominated eighteen candidates for the six places as directors, these eighteen to be voted on by the individual banks by mail within the next several weeks.

List of Nominees.

Those naminated are:

Class A, Group 1—A. M. Baldwin, Montgomery; W. R. Cole, Nashville, Tenn.; A. P. Hillyer, Macon, Ga.

Class A, Group 2—G. C. Beard, Lebanon, Tenn.; F. S. Etheridge, Jackson, Ga.; F. W. Foote, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Class A, Group 3—G. H. Malone, Dothan; McLane Tilton, Jr., Pell City; W. H. Toole, Winder, Ga.

Class B, Group 1—M. F. Amorous, Atlanta, Ga.; C. P. Kendall, Jacksonville, Fla.; P. H. Saunders, New Orleans.

Class B, Group 2—O. C. Darling, Andalusia; J. A. McCrary, Decatur, Ga.; O. H. Merrill, Eufaula.

Class B, Group 3—W. H. Hartford, Nashville, Tenn.; J. W. Howard, Nashville, Tenn.; J. B. Legard, Columbia, Louisiana.

Malone Forces Bolt.

During the early session of the convention, a stormy scene was enacted on the floor when G. H. Malone, of Dothan, Ala., led thirty bankers off the floor, declining to have anything further to do with the proceedings, when his motion to dissolve the convention into group meetings was defeated. There has been strong personal bitterness between Mr. Malone and McLane Tilton, Jr., of Pell City, Ala., over the nomination in group 3, class A, as Alabama's representative. The nominating committee placed the names of both men on the ticket. A. M. Baldwin, president of the First National bank of this city, received seventeen of the eighteen votes of the nominating committee.

Ottley for Chairman.

J. K. Ottley, of Atlanta, was elected chairman, and W. A. Suffold, of Montgomery, secretary.

The nominations were made under a resolution by Dr. W. J. Blalock, which provided for a committee of eighteen members to make selections and report to the convention. The resolution also provided that the nominations are merely suggestive and not binding on the electors.

An unsuccessful effort was made to call the convention off because only 91 of the 378 member banks were represented, and it was asserted that it was a case of trying to make the "tail wag the dog."

Warburg Urged to Accept.

During the afternoon resolutions were adopted by the sixth district bankers authorizing that a telegram be sent to Paul M. Warburg, of New York, urging him to accept the appointment of President Wilson to the place on the federal reserve board, stating that he would be of material value to the banking and business interests of the country. The representatives of six states comprising the sixth district, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana, urged Mr. Warburg to forget the differences that may have arisen from the questions propounded by the senate committee.

For Emancipation Exposition.

Washington, July 8.—An amendment appropriating $55,000 for an exposition to be held in Richmond, Va., to commemorate the signing of the emancipation proclamation was written into the sundry civil appropriation bill today by the senate.

NO SEX HYGIENE IN THE SCHOOLS

Teaching Opposed by National Educators—Mothers Should Do the Teaching. Club Women Scored.

St. Paul, Minn., July 8.—The teaching of sex hygiene never will be delegated to the American teacher, if it can be prevented by the National Education association. This was evidenced at today's session when speaker after speaker denounced such a course and found themselves greeted with ringing applause.

"We should have but the strongest condemnation for the wealthy, clubgoing woman who has not time to teach her child fundamental truths of life and would throw the responsibility on a teacher or a football coach," shouted Dr. Charles H. Keene, of Minneapolis, supervisor of hygiene and physical training. "Such shiftlessness is outrageous."

Knowledge Won't Compel Purity.

When the tumultous cheering had subsided he went on:

"Sex instructions placed on the same plane with spelling and arithmetic will rob it of all its sacredness.

"We talk about the inability of the poorer mothers to teach their children personal hygiene, but it is not for these children that we need to have all the fear.

"Knowledge never will compel purity. Sex instruction in schools will but tend to lower the standard of morality.

"If we take up sex hygiene in our schools the homes of America will continue to lose ground, and will give up the few privileges they now have to train the children."

N. D. Showalter, president of Cheney Normal school, Cheney, Wash., said:

"When a father or mother turns aside a child's natural question or deals dishonestly with sex questions, he lays the foundation of an immorality which may develop into a tremendous force."

Miss Clara G. Baer, of New Orleans, and Baroness Rose Posse, of Boston, expressed like views.

For Conservation of the Race.

Methods for the conservation of the future race were advocated before the department of social education by Mary G. Campbell, Chicago psychologist.

"Every year the public schools produce human waste, as is evidenced by those who pass through our courts and psychopathic laboratories," she said. "We should conserve the children in public schools by having a special report every few months on those who are slightly retarded and are beginning to lag behind so that deviations from normal could be studied in time to prevent mental and moral disaster. Many an immoral act has its genesis in the discouraged boy or girl."

A warning to educators to beware of cheap juvenile publications which are really nickel novels in fdisguise was sounded before the library department by Franklin Mathiews, librarian, Boy Scouts of America, New York.

William B. Jones, of Chicago, was re-elected secretary of the national council education.

The report of the committee resolution to be submitted tomorrow considers simplified spelling, careful supervision of teachers, medical inspection and numerous other subjects.

The convention today declined to report resolutions indorsing the bill in congress providing for an amendment to the constitution to enable congress to pass uniform marriage and divorce laws. The association will not consider the divorce evil and similar questions.

Principles and aims of education formed the topic of discussion at the general session tonight. Election of officers and reports of various committees is the principal work on tomorrow's program.

$200,000 for Fire Sufferers.

Washington, July 8.—Senator Hollis' amendment providing $200,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the Salem, Mass., fire was adopted by the senate today witout a dissenting vote.

HELD AS ASSASSIN, WIFE OF PHYSICIAN COLLAPSES IN CELL

Mrs. Carman Loses Her Nerve When Jailed for the Murder of Mrs. Bailey in Dr. Carman's Office.

JEALOUSY IS SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN MOTIVE

New Witness Gave Evidence That Caused Arrest—Mrs. Carman Used Dictagraph on Husband and Woman Patients.

Freeport, N. Y., July 8.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, wife of Dr. Edwin Carman, was arrested today, accused of being the assassin who, a week ago last night, murdered Mrs. Louise Bailey, wife of a Hempstead manufacturer, by firing a bullet through her heart as she stood in the physician's office.

In the County Jail.

Tonight Mrs. Carman, at whom the finger of suspicion has pointed since the discovery that she had installed a telephonic instrument in her husband's office to hear conversation between him and his woman patients, is in the Nassau county jail at Mineola. There she will remain until Monday, when she again will be examined by the coroner, before whom she pleaded not guilty today when arraigned after her arrest in the room where Mrs. Bailey died.

Mrs. Carman's nerve is shattered. When the steel-barred door of the Mineola jail closed behind her today she pulled her heavy veil from her face and broke down. Her husband and the sheriff, who took her in an automobile from her home here to the jail, assisted her to the top floor of the building.

The immediate cause of the arrest was the testimony given this morning by Ellwood T. Bardes, an insurance agent, whom the authorities called the single reliable eye witness of the crime. Bardes also is under lock and key, detained as a material witness; for his story is of such importance that the authorities feared an attempt might be made to get him out of the jurisdiction of the New York courts.

Bardes' Story of the Murder.

Bardes' story, briefly told, is this:

At 7:30 o'clock on the night of the murder, Bardes said, he determined to visit Dr. Carman to have him dress a minor injury. He walked to the physician's home. Arriving, he decided he could dress the injury himself and thereby save a doctor's fee. So he walked past the house and then turned around to begin his journey home.

At that instant he heard an explosion. He thought it was caused by an automobile tire, but when he looked for the machine he could not find it. He looked toward the lawn at the side of Dr. Carman's home. A woman, tall, well built, hatless, wearing a light shirtwaist and a dark skirt, was moving away from one of the windows at the side of the physician's office toward the rear of the house. She was walking "in a hurry," the witness swore.

Witnesses, testifying at previous sessions of the inquest, swore that Mrs. Carman was thus garbed on the night of the murder. She has maintained, however, that she was dressed in a kimono and in her bedroom.

In this contention, Mrs. Carman was borne out on the stand today by her young daughter, Elizabeth.

Bardes was discovered yesterday His story might still remain untold had he not mentioned it, first to a woman who telephoned the district attorney and then to a priest he visited for advice. The priest urged Bardes to make his story known. But before an opportunity presented itself, he was taken into custody by orders of the district attorney.

Daughter Aided Mother.

Bardes testified today after Mrs.

COMMITTEE FAVORS BILL GIVING CITIES RIGHT TO MAKE ICE

Measure Can Be Used as Club to Keep Manufacturers in Line, According to Mr. Blackburn.

1,217 BILLS INTRODUCED IN HOUSE AND SENATE

General Judiciary Committees Kill Many Measures on the Ground Georgia Already Has Too Many Laws.

Every incorporated city and town in Georgia will be given the right, without any special charter provision, to manufacture and sell ice under a bill that was reported favorably by the general judiciary committee, No. 1, of the house Wednesday afternoon.

If this bill is passed by the house and senate and signed by the governor any town or city in the state, which has been incorporated, can own and operate an ice plant.

The bill is peculiarly sweeping in its character because of its general application of a legalized right which is usually delegated to incorporated municipalities by charter.

Can Sell at Cost.

If this bill becomes a law all the large cities in the state can manufacture and sell ice to its citizens at actual cost, just as many of them now sell water, gas or electric light.

If the right is taken advantage of in a number of towns and cities shippers of fruit, fish and vegetables may be supplied with ice by municipalities.

The bill was not without opposition in the committee, and when the vote was taken there were seven for it and four against it. Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton, spoke for the bill. He said that every town and city incorporated by the state should have as much right to make and sell ice as they did to sell any other necessary commodity like gas, water and light.

"We all believe there is an ice trust," said Mr. Blackburn. "Here in Atlanta the ordinary citizen who cannot buy ice in large quantities has to get it from wagons, and what is usually sold from wagons is the sort of ice known as 'frosted.' If Atlanta and other large cities do not manufacture ice, a law that authorized them to do so will be a hammer over the heads of the manufacturers that will keep them in line."

Mr. Miller, of Bibb, and others who spoke against the bill took the position that the law was too sweeping and that such a power should only be delegated to towns and cities by charter enactment. They did not think a city had any more right to make and sell ice than it had to engage in any other business for profit.

While no notice was given of a minority report, it seems almost certain that there will be opposition to the bill on the floor of the house when the measure comes up for final passage.

1,217 Bills Introduced.

There have been introduced in the senate and house of the legislature of Georgia at the present session 1,217 bills. Of these, 942 have been introduced in the house and 275 in the senate.

And they are still coming at the rate of between twenty and thirty a day.

The lawmakers of the state, despite the fact that the civil and criminal codes are already replete with all kinds and assortments of laws, seem to think that Georgia is still short on law.

This was brought out by Mr. Davidson, of Putnam, at a meeting of a house committee Wednesday afternoon, when the committee was killing bills as fast as possible. Mr. Davidson continued to monotonously move: "That we report that the bill do not pass." He explained his stereotyped motion by adding: "We have more laws now than are needed, and instead of passing more we should repeal a few that we already have."

The general judiciary committee No. 2 turned down the following bills:

Many Bills Turned Down.

To require that goods made by convict labor be so labelled.

To permit superior courts to try misdemeanor cases.

To require hotels and boarding houses to have fire escapes.

To prohibit setting aside judgments unless substantial injustice can be shown.

The same committee reported favorably on a bill by Mr. Sheppard, of Sumter, providing that a publication of notice be sufficient service in suits when the address of the defendant is not known.

FIVE ARE INJURED IN CAR STAMPEDE

Passengers Become Panic Stricken When a Sheet of Fire Flames Up From Controlling Box.

When a sheet of fire flamed up from the controlling box on the front platform of a Soldier's Home street car, which left town at 6:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the corner of Decatur and Pratt streets, a score of men stampeded for the steps and leaped from the moving car to escape being burned.

In the wild rush Detective W. C. Patrick, of the city police force, who was going to his home at 27 Harold avenue, was pushed from the platform to the streets, receiving severe body bruises and cuts, necessitating his going to the Grady hospital for treatment.

The detective was standing next to the steps, and as he was shoved to the ground other men jumped on him in their wild leap from the car.

The car was loaded with passengers, and the women passengers began a rush from the rear and front platforms in order to escape. Two or three went into hysterics, and many screamed with fear.

Detective Chewning chanced to be standing in the doorway at the front end of the car, and he avoided a stampede among the women passengers by quickly closing the door, and refusing to allow any of them to get on the front platform where they could leap from the car until it was brought to a stop.

Four passengers, hurt slightly in the stampede, went to the Grady hospital. As their injuries were not serious, they gave no names, but left the hospital shortly after having their bruises dressed.

WILD RIDE IN AUTO DOWN A MOUNTAIN TO DEATH IN RIVER

Kennett, Cal., July 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Webber, of Berkeley, Cal., was drowned today at the end of a wild ride down a mountain side in an uncontrollable automobile that shot from the bank of the Sacramento river, leaped across a flat ferry boat and plunged into the river.

Z. K. Horton and his mother, Mrs. C. E. Horton, who were in the automobile with Mrs. Webber, swam ashore. The body of Mrs. Webber was found four hours after the accident 12 miles away. Five thousand dollars in currency lies at the bottom of the river in the wrecked automobile.

War to the Last Ditch For Mexican Factions; Peace Hopes Are Gone

REBEL SHOTS HIT GUNBOAT MACHIAS

U. S. Warship Again Forced to Use Her Guns at Puerta Plata--Intervention in San Domingo Likely.

Washington, July 8.—Reckless firing Dominican rebels sent several shots against the hull of the American gunboat Machias in Puerta Plata harbor late last night, and drew upon themselves a warning volley from the Machias' three-pounder and automatic rifles. The shooting from shore stopped immediately.

A few days ago the gunboat used her main artillery of four-inch guns to silence President Bordas' batteries, which were bombarding the rebel garrison holding the city, in violation of the agreement that the lives of foreigners and other non-combatants would not be endangered by artillery fire.

Reporting the latest incident to the navy department tonight, Captain Russell, of the battleship Carolina, said considerable scattering rifle fire from the rebels passed over the Machias and some shots struck her. Later, the dispatch said, the "junta commission of legalistas" representing the revolutionists, boarded the Machias and gave assurances of their desire to avoid endangering the safety of Americans.

Four Revolutions Under Way.

With four separate revolutions raging and the American minister returning home after several months of fruitless efforts to restore peace, the little republic of San Domingo is causing the Washington government grave anxiety. The United States is morally bound to maintain order there under the semi-protectorate created by treaty.

Today's reports showed no improvement. For many months President Bordas, obliged to maintain himself in office by extra-official decrees and partial elections, has been leading his troops unsuccessfully against rebellious generals in the north. Meanwhile revolutions have broken out in other sections—at Asua, where the government navy found it necessary to destroy the custom house, along the line of railway between Sanchez and Samana bay, at Monte Christi and at La Romana in the southeast. In this last neighborhood there are extensive American-owned plantations, agents for which appeared at the state department today looking for protection for their property.

United States May Act.

A conviction is growing here that only through powerful outside influence and probably that of the United States can chaotic conditions be terminated. The revolutionists appear unable to overcome the Bordas government but Bordas has not been able to defeat his enemies. Mr. Vick, the American collector of customs, has resigned and now Minister Sullivan is returning, leaving Secretary White in charge and without any definite assurances that he will ever resume his official duties.

The state department is reluctant to intervene forcibly and it is expected an effort will be made to send some strong man to the republic who may bring all elements together. Meanwhile the navy is maintaining a considerable fleet in Dominican waters, including the South Carolina and Machias at Puerta Plata, the Marietta at Sanchez and the Castine at Azua. Other vessels are on the Haitien end of the island.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF CHARITY WORKER

Body of Mrs. Frankie Barkshadt Found Wednesday Afternoon in a Closed and Locked House.

A 7-year-old boy and an aged confederate veteran yesterday found in a house at 151 Luckie street the dead body of a woman, apparently of middle age, which later was identified as that of Mrs. Frankie Barkshadt, who at one time was a well-known church worker, being active in the support of the old Barclay mission on Marietta street.

The police were notified and Call Officers Haslett and Barfield investigated the death. They found the house closed, every door and window being locked, and the shades pulled down.

According to their story the woman's body, clad only in a thin chemise, was lying face-upward across a bed. On the floor beside the bed was an overturned chair and two bed pillows. These led the police at first to believe that a struggle had preceded the woman's death.

A large crowd of people were attracted to the premises of the one-story house, and watched closely the proceedings of the police investigation.

Hoyt Rhinehart, the young boy, living at 149 Luckie, who, with P. V. Hollinshed, the veteran of Marietta, Ga., found the body by peeping through a window.

The woman's body was removed from the house, and taken in charge by Harry G. Poole, undertaker.

It was learned that Mrs. Barkshadt had been working for Lynch, the tailor, at 5½ Auburn avenue, for some time, employed as a vest maker.

A neighbor stated that recently Mrs. Barkshadt had complained to her that she had had a slight stroke of paralysis and feared that another would probably end her life.

The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of Harry G. Poole, and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Carranza and Generals Spurn Offer for a Peace Conference With the Representatives of Huerta.

REBELS ARE RESOLVED ON COMPLETE CONQUEST

And Then Country Will Be Ruled by Martial Law--An Early Statement Is Expected From United States.

HUERTA HEARS THAT WOMAN HAS ASSASSINATED VILLA

Mexico City, July 8.—A report made public by the Gobernacion department today said General Villa had been assassinated at Torreon by a woman.

Laredo, Texas, July 8.—The constitutionalists are unlikely to accept the offer of the Niagara mediators for a conference with representatives of Huerta, to arrange a provisional government in Mexico. This announcement, coming from unquestioned sources, reached the border here today.

It was declared by arrivals here that the generals of the constitutionalist army to whom the question was submitted for advice by General Carranza had, with the exception of the generals of Obregon's division who have not yet had time to report, strongly opposed any such conference.

Answer Not Yet Sent.

Carranza's answer declining to confer has not yet been sent to the mediators, but no doubt was expressed by those in close touch with the situation as to what that answer would be, according to travelers from Saltillo.

The constitutionalists' position, it was said, is that an agreement to accept a provisional government must cause the outbreak of other revolutionary movements. They pointed to the happenings following Madero's agreement to allow De La Barra to become provisional president, and declare that the agreement for a provisional government would scarcely have been entered into with the followers of Huerta before a dozen new revolutionary movements would spring up in as many different quarters.

The constitutionalists declare that the reforms for which they are striving only can be placed in successful operation without loss of time by a government under military rule such as Benito Juarez operated in Vera Cruz in the 60's.

To Expect the Impossible.

They emphasize this by calling attention to the fact that any provisional president, to take legal action of any sort, must convene congress as at present constituted, and depend upon that body to ratify his acts until an election should have been held. To obtain reforms or satisfactory action through a body under the complete dominion of Huerta, the constitutionalists say would be to expect the impossible.

General Carranza, it is said, has given assurances that if the Tampico gateway is opened and he can obtain through that port arms and ammunition and supplies, he will take Mexico City within a very short time, establishing peace on a firm basis under military rule until it is possible to hold a fair election.

NEWS OF REJECTION PARTIALLY CONFIRMED

Washington, July 8.—Border dispatches stating that the constitutionalists would not enter informal peace conferences with Huerta representatives were partially confirmed here tonight. Rafael Zubaran and Luis Cabrera, the two most prominent Carranza representatives here, had nothing to say, but word that most of the constitutionalist generals to whom the plan for conferences had been submitted had disapproved it came from well-informed sources.

Minister Naon, of Argentina, the only one of the mediators in Washington, read the dispatches with evident surprise. He indicated that the mediators would take no action until the attitude of the constitutionalists was learned officially. Secretary Bryan said it would be improper for him to discuss the situation in advance of the arrival of Carranza's formal answer to the pending proposal for peace conferences.

That constitutionalist leaders strongly oppose the idea of peace conferences did not surprise officials who have maintained it would be virtually impossible to modify the plan of Guadaloupe, the platform of the constitutionalist movement. This plan declares a military government shall be set up after Mexico City is conquered, and that no elections shall be held until the country is pacified by military rule. The present purpose of the constitutionalists, it is understood, is to follow that program to the letter.

Carranza-Villa Trouble Settled.

Reports from Torreon that differences between Carranza and Villa had been composed were verified today by agents of both, but there was an undertone of comment, indicating that it was but a temporary truce. The break has had a disorganizing effect politically in the constitutionalist ranks, and evidences of it are manifest in Mexican circles here. Reports from the border today said one of the conditions of the agreement between Carranza and Villa was that Rafael Zubaran be retired from his post as head of the constitutionalist agency here.

Mr. Zubaran and Mr. Cabrera have worked hard to bring about informal conferences with the Huerta delegates, who are now in New York awaiting word through this channel of information. Whether Zubaran and Cabrera will be authorized to speak for the constitutionalist movement much longer,

Husband of Accused Woman on Stand

DR. EDWIN CARMAN ON STAND.

The strange murder case of Mrs. William D. Bailey, who was mysteriously shot to death in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, at Freeport, N. Y., has been further complicated by the statement of Dr. Carman that he was shot at several times while out in his auto on professional calls. The case was first made especially sensational when it was revealed that Mrs. Carman, the doctor's wife, had spied on him when he had women patients by means of a dictograph.

18 CANDIDATES FOR DIRECTORS

Amorous, Hillyer, Toole, Etheridge and McCrary Are the Georgians Nominated at Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., July 8.—The convention of the representative banks and bankers, comprising the sixth district of the federal reserve bank, this afternoon nominated eighteen candidates for the six places as directors, these eighteen to be voted on by the individual banks by mail within the next several weeks.

List of Nominees.

Those naminated are:

Class A, Group 1—A. M. Baldwin, Montgomery; W. R. Cole, Nashville, Tenn.; A. P. Hillyer, Macon, Ga.

Class A, Group 2—G. C. Beard, Lebanon, Tenn.; F. S. Etheridge, Jackson, Ga.; F. W. Foote, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Class A, Group 3—G. H. Malone, Dothan; McLane Tilton, Jr., Pell City; W. H. Toole, Winder, Ga.

Class B, Group 1—M. F. Amorous, Atlanta, Ga.; C. P. Kendall, Jacksonville, Fla.; P. H. Saunders, New Orleans.

Class B, Group 2—O. C. Darling, Andalusia; J. A. McCrary, Decatur, Ga.; O. H. Merrill, Eufaula.

Class B, Group 3—W. H. Hartford, Nashville, Tenn.; J. W. Howard, Nashville, Tenn.; J. B. Legard, Columbia, Louisiana.

Malone Forces Bolt.

During the early session of the convention, a stormy scene was enacted on the floor when G. H. Malone, of Dothan, Ala., led thirty bankers off the floor, declining to have anything further to do with the proceedings, when his motion to dissolve the convention into group meetings was defeated. There has been strong personal bitterness between Mr. Malone and McLane Tilton, Jr., of Pell City, Ala., over the nomination in group 3, class A, as Alabama's representative. The nominating committee placed the names of both men on the ticket. A. M. Baldwin, president of the First National bank of this city, received seventeen of the eighteen votes of the nominating committee.

Ottley for Chairman.

J. K. Ottley, of Atlanta, was elected chairman, and W. A. Suffold, of Montgomery, secretary.

The nominations were made under a resolution by Dr. W. J. Blalock, which provided for a committee of eighteen members to make selections and report to the convention. The resolution also provided that the nominations are merely suggestive and not binding on the electors.

An unsuccessful effort was made to call the convention off because only 91 of the 378 member banks were represented, and it was asserted that it was a case of trying to make the "tail wag the dog."

Warburg Urged to Accept.

During the afternoon resolutions were adopted by the sixth district bankers authorizing that a telegram be sent to Paul M. Warburg, of New York, urging him to accept the appointment of President Wilson to the place on the federal reserve board, stating that he would be of material value to the banking and business interests of the country. The representatives of six states comprising the sixth district, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana, urged Mr. Warburg to forget the differences that may have arisen from the questions propounded by the senate committee.

For Emancipation Exposition.

Washington, July 8.—An amendment appropriating $55,000 for an exposition to be held in Richmond, Va., to commemorate the signing of the emancipation proclamation was written into the sundry civil appropriation bill today by the senate.

NO SEX HYGIENE IN THE SCHOOLS

Teaching Opposed by National Educators—Mothers Should Do the Teaching. Club Women Scored.

St. Paul, Minn., July 8.—The teaching of sex hygiene never will be delegated to the American teacher, if it can be prevented by the National Education association. This was evidenced at today's session when speaker after speaker denounced such a course and found themselves greeted with ringing applause.

"We should have but the strongest condemnation for the wealthy, clubgoing woman who has not time to teach her child fundamental truths of life and would throw the responsibility on a teacher or a football coach," shouted Dr. Charles H. Keene, of Minneapolis, supervisor of hygiene and physical training. "Such shiftlessness is outrageous."

Knowledge Won't Compel Purity.

When the tumultous cheering had subsided he went on:

"Sex instructions placed on the same plane with spelling and arithmetic will rob it of all its sacredness.

"We talk about the inability of the poorer mothers to teach their children personal hygiene, but it is not for these children that we need to have all the fear.

"Knowledge never will compel purity. Sex instruction in schools will but tend to lower the standard of morality.

"If we take up sex hygiene in our schools the homes of America will continue to lose ground, and will give up the few privileges they now have to train the children."

N. D. Showalter, president of Cheney Normal school, Cheney, Wash., said:

"When a father or mother turns aside a child's natural question or deals dishonestly with sex questions, he lays the foundation of an immorality which may develop into a tremendous force."

Miss Clara G. Baer, of New Orleans, and Baroness Rose Posse, of Boston, expressed like views.

For Conservation of the Race.

Methods for the conservation of the future race were advocated before the department of social education by Mary G. Campbell, Chicago psychologist.

"Every year the public schools produce human waste, as is evidenced by those who pass through our courts and psychopathic laboratories," she said. "We should conserve the children in public schools by having a special report every few months on those who are slightly retarded and are beginning to lag behind so that deviations from normal could be studied in time to prevent mental and moral disaster. Many an immoral act has its genesis in the discouraged boy or girl."

A warning to educators to beware of cheap juvenile publications which are really nickel novels in fdisguise was sounded before the library department by Franklin Mathiews, librarian, Boy Scouts of America, New York.

William B. Jones, of Chicago, was re-elected secretary of the national council education.

The report of the committee resolution to be submitted tomorrow considers simplified spelling, careful supervision of teachers, medical inspection and numerous other subjects.

The convention today declined to report resolutions indorsing the bill in congress providing for an amendment to the constitution to enable congress to pass uniform marriage and divorce laws. The association will not consider the divorce evil and similar questions.

Principles and aims of education formed the topic of discussion at the general session tonight. Election of officers and reports of various committees is the principal work on tomorrow's program.

$200,000 for Fire Sufferers.

Washington, July 8.—Senator Hollis' amendment providing $200,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the Salem, Mass., fire was adopted by the senate today witout a dissenting vote.

HELD AS ASSASSIN, WIFE OF PHYSICIAN COLLAPSES IN CELL

Mrs. Carman Loses Her Nerve When Jailed for the Murder of Mrs. Bailey in Dr. Carman's Office.

JEALOUSY IS SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN MOTIVE

New Witness Gave Evidence That Caused Arrest—Mrs. Carman Used Dictagraph on Husband and Woman Patients.

Freeport, N. Y., July 8.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, wife of Dr. Edwin Carman, was arrested today, accused of being the assassin who, a week ago last night, murdered Mrs. Louise Bailey, wife of a Hempstead manufacturer, by firing a bullet through her heart as she stood in the physician's office.

In the County Jail.

Tonight Mrs. Carman, at whom the finger of suspicion has pointed since the discovery that she had installed a telephonic instrument in her husband's office to hear conversation between him and his woman patients, is in the Nassau county jail at Mineola. There she will remain until Monday, when she again will be examined by the coroner, before whom she pleaded not guilty today when arraigned after her arrest in the room where Mrs. Bailey died.

Mrs. Carman's nerve is shattered. When the steel-barred door of the Mineola jail closed behind her today she pulled her heavy veil from her face and broke down. Her husband and the sheriff, who took her in an automobile from her home here to the jail, assisted her to the top floor of the building.

The immediate cause of the arrest was the testimony given this morning by Ellwood T. Bardes, an insurance agent, whom the authorities called the single reliable eye witness of the crime. Bardes also is under lock and key, detained as a material witness; for his story is of such importance that the authorities feared an attempt might be made to get him out of the jurisdiction of the New York courts.

Bardes' Story of the Murder.

Bardes' story, briefly told, is this:

At 7:30 o'clock on the night of the murder, Bardes said, he determined to visit Dr. Carman to have him dress a minor injury. He walked to the physician's home. Arriving, he decided he could dress the injury himself and thereby save a doctor's fee. So he walked past the house and then turned around to begin his journey home.

At that instant he heard an explosion. He thought it was caused by an automobile tire, but when he looked for the machine he could not find it. He looked toward the lawn at the side of Dr. Carman's home. A woman, tall, well built, hatless, wearing a light shirtwaist and a dark skirt, was moving away from one of the windows at the side of the physician's office toward the rear of the house. She was walking "in a hurry," the witness swore.

Witnesses, testifying at previous sessions of the inquest, swore that Mrs. Carman was thus garbed on the night of the murder. She has maintained, however, that she was dressed in a kimono and in her bedroom.

In this contention, Mrs. Carman was borne out on the stand today by her young daughter, Elizabeth.

Bardes was discovered yesterday His story might still remain untold had he not mentioned it, first to a woman who telephoned the district attorney and then to a priest he visited for advice. The priest urged Bardes to make his story known. But before an opportunity presented itself, he was taken into custody by orders of the district attorney.

Daughter Aided Mother.

Bardes testified today after Mrs.

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

Carman's 12-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, had tried to strengthen her mother's alibi, and representatives of the manufacturers of the telephonic instrument had told of selling the device to the physician's wife and of installing it in her home.

Coroner Norton, after spending an hour studying the testimony of Bardes and other witnesses, wrote out his charge, stating that he "does on his oath say that Louise Bailey came to her death by criminal means, by reason of a bullet fired into her body with a revolver held by Florence Carman." He then ordered Mrs. Carman's arrest.

George Levy, Mrs. Carman's counsel, telephoned Dr. Carman of this action.

Word was sent to Mrs. Carman that she was about to be arrested, and a few minutes later county officials entered the physician's office. Mrs. Carman, pale but controlled, accompanied by her husband, her attorney and others, came in a minute later. Coroner Norton, for years an intimate friend of the family, with tears in his eyes, read his charge and the warrant of arrest he had signed. Mrs. Carman stood erect, facing him. Between them, on the floor, was a dark stain marking the spot where Mrs. Bailey died.

"Are you guilty of this charge or not guilty?" asked an assistant district attorney.

"Not guilty," answered Mrs. Carman.

"I'm sorry I had to"—began the coroner. As he said "to" the door leading from the office to the waiting room opened and Elizabeth Carman entered.

"When Is Mamma Coming Home?"

"Mr. Pettit," she said to the sheriff; "Mr. Pettit, when is my mamma coming home?"

The sheriff placed his hand on the child's head and answered: "Tomorrow."

"Come over here and sit on my knee," said Mrs. Carman's attorney. "We'll take care of your mother," all right."

Mrs. Carman was allowed to go to the second floor of her home, where her mother, Mrs. Platt Conklin, has been ill in bed since the day after the murder. She went to her room, obtained some personal belongings, dressed herself in a suit of white, put on the same coat she wore, when she went to Hempstead, a week ago to look at the face of the murdered woman in the morgue and a small hat over which she placed a veil.

With her husband and the sheriff, Mrs. Carman entered the automobile and was taken to the jail. Although a cell had been prepared for her she was taken to the warden's quarters on the top floor, where she was placed in the care of the matron, who gave up her own room to the prisoner. Dr. Carman and his wife's attorney remained in the jail until late tonight.

While the automobile carrying Mrs Carman was running through Hempstead it passed a girl in black. She was Madeline Bailey, 17-year-old daughter of the murdered woman. She was not aware that a woman, held as her mother's slayer was passing, nor did other members of the Bailey family know that Mrs. Carman, on her way to jail, passed within a few blocks of their home. The first they knew of the result of the inquest was when reporters called. In the courthouse adjoining the jail the grand jury tomorrow will begin its investigation of the murder. All witnesses who have appeared before three sessions of the inquest and some others were served today with subpoenas.

Spied on Husband and Women.

Gaston Boissonault, manager of the detective division of a company which manufactures telephone devices to record conversations, was the first witness called at the resumption of the inquest.

It was Boissonault's company that installed a telephonic device in Dr. Carman's office sometime before the murder at the order of Mrs. Carman. The witness told today of the first call of Mrs. Carman at his office. She first said she was a dressmaker, then admitted her identity, adding that she had many domestic troubles and wanted to hear what went on in her husband's office. This was on May 19. The witness said arrangements for the rental of the instrument were made that day.

On the same day Mrs. Carman made plans to take her husband away for two days while the instrument was being installed.

The witness said Mrs. Carman had told him about seeing a nurse kiss Dr. Carman. "She said she was so mad," he continued, "when she saw that kiss that she almost broke the window by knocking on it."

Husband Met Many Women.

Mrs. Carman told him further, he said, that she knew her husband met many women, both in his home and outside, and she asked the witness whether he could furnish detectives to follow him. She had said emphatically, however, that she would not get a divorce on account of her daughter.

The witness said one of his instruments was installed after he received a letter from Mrs. Carman announcing when she would have her husband out of the way. Later Mrs. Carman demanded and received this letter.

Mrs. Carman and her mother called upon him next on May 25, said the witness. Mrs. Carman told him she was "satisfied," and that she had been keeping in a diary a record of everything she had heard over the instrument. She said she had some difficulty in hearing all that went on in the doctor's office because the doctor and his women patients sometimes whispered. She bought two additional batteries on this occasion.

Boissonault denied that any instruments had recorded Mrs. Carman's conversations with him and he was then excused.

Woman Ready to Testify.

Mrs. Carman's attorney late tonight said his client would appear before the grand jury at any time the district attorney desired, sign a waiver of immunity and answer any questions. The attorney also announced he had obtained an affidavit from George Golder, a witness at the inquest, modifying testimony he gave before the coroner. Golder had testified that he saw Mrs. Carman sitting on the porch before the murder. In his affidavit, according to the attorney, Golder declares he is not sure his identification was correct.

BILL GIVING CITIES RIGHT TO MAKE ICE

lature to be held ten days in January and forty days in July and August; to amend an act relating to the duties of grand juries; to provide for the registration of contracts for hired labor.

The same committee reported favorably on the following bills:

To abolish fictitious forms of pleading in ejectment; to authorize condemnation proceeding of land to be brought in court.

Pensions Committee Reports.

The pension committee reported favorably on a resolution to pay past due pension to J. D. Pulliam. The resolution authorizing the payment of past due pension to Mrs. Harriet Hargett was reported unfavorably.

The bill to provide for the payment of the fees now fixed by law for the ordinaries in connection with the pension work as returned to the house with the request that it be re-committed to the appropriation committee.

A bill entitled an act to create a state highway department was passed on favorably by the public highway committee. This bill was drawn in order to comply with the requirements of the Shackelford aid bill, passed by congress, by which the state of Georgia will receive about $12,000.00 annually from the United States government for public highways.

The public highway committee also reported favorably on the bill to create a board of roads and revenues in the county of Dade.

Flood Protection.

The general judiciary committee of the senate reported favorably Wednesday afternoon on the bill authorizing municipalities to acquire by condemnation fee simple titles to property for purposes of flood protection.

The bill was supported by the Richmond delegation from the house. Besides the Richmond delegation those who spoke in favor of the bill were: C. Henry Cohen, Warren Walker, G. S. Grey, Nesbit Wingfield and R. Roy Goodwin. John P. Mulherin spoke against the bill.

A bill has already been passed by the house and senate allowing the city of Augusta to acquire by condemnation easements on certain property. The bill which was before the senate committee on general judiciary was a general bill allowing municipalities to acquire fee simple titles instead of easements by condemnation proceedings, in order that such property may be sold if desired. Under the bill already passed the city of Augusta could not sell any part of the property acquired by condemnation.

An act to prohibit contracts of employment providing forfeitures of wages except under certain circumstances was tabled.

An act to amend the code relating to the recording of executions, the dormancy of judgments and reviving of same and providing limitation and enforcing same, was returned to the senate with the recommendation that it "do pass."

The committee also passed favorably on the act to provide for a hearing in the courts of the state of tax collectors or sureties on their official bonds when executions have been issued by the comptroller general against defaulting tax collectors and sureties on their official bonds.

LIONS ATTACK TRAINER; HE DIES OF WOUNDS

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 8.—Jacob Lorenzo, of Philadelphia, an animal trainer, died here today as the result of a vicious attack by two young lions owned by a street carnival company.

WARBURG AND JONES BACKED BY WILSON

The President Urges Their Confirmation—Democratic Party Not Enemy of Big or Little Business.

Washington, July 8.—Declaring it would be unfair to regard the democratic party as the enemy of big or little business President Wilson today gave out a statement in support of Paul Warburg, of New York, and Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, his nominees for the federal reserve board.

President Wilson's Statement.

President Wilson's statement follows:

"It would be particularly unfair to the democratic party and to the senate itself to regard it as the enemy of business, big or little. I am sure that it does not regard a man as an object of suspicion merely because he has been connected with great business enterprises. It knows that the business of the country has been chiefly promoted in recent years by enterprises organized on a great scale and that the vast majority of the men connected with what we have come to call big business are honest, incorruptible and patriotic. The country may be certain that it is clear to members of the senate as it is clear to all thoughtful men that those who have tried to make big business what it ought to be, are the men to be encouraged and honored, whenever they respond without reserve to the call of public service.

"I predict with the greatest confidence that nothing done by the democratic majority of the senate of the United States will be of a sort to throw suspicion upon such men. Mr. Jones and Mr. Warburg in manifesting their willingness to make personal sacrifices and put their great experience and ability at the service of the government, without thought of personal advantage in the organization of a great reform which promises to be so serviceable to the nation, are setting an example of patriotism and of public spirit which the whole country admires. It is the obvious business of statesmanship at this turning point in our development to recognize ability and character, wherever it has been displayed, and unite every force for the upbuilding of legitimate business along the new lines which are now clearly indicated for the future."

The president said today he earnestly hoped Mr. Warburg would reconsider his decision not to accept the nomination and that he was urging him to do so. He expressed confidence that Mr. Jones would be confirmed.

May Withdraw Invitation.

An opportunity will be afforded at a meeting of the senate banking committee tomorrow for a formal motion to withdraw the invitation to Mr. Warburg to appear. It was said today by members that a majority probably would oppose it. Acting Chairman Hitchcock said no suggestion had reached him form administration officials for withdrawal of the invitation.

The nomination of Mr. Jones also will be taken up tomorrow.

It became known today that several members of the committee are not so much interested in the American connections of Mr. Warburg as in any interest he may have in foreign banking houses and his foreign investments.

Senator Hitchcock, acting chairman of the committee, today issued a statement in which he said:

"Some criticism has been made because the committee did not invite others nominated for membership in the board by the president to come before it. This, however, is not true.

"Before reporting to confirm John Skelton Williams, as comptroller of the currency and ex-officio member of the board, it invited him to meet with the committee. He did so and answered all questions fully and frankly.

"It invited Mr. Jones, of Chicago. He responded promptly and answered all questions fully and frankly. It secured a written statement from Mr. Harding, of Alabama, which was deemed ample and satisfactory. It had equally complete information concerning Mr. Miller and Mr. Hamlin. Both of these men have been in public life and were known to members of the committee; yet they were invited to and did supply the committee with all information desired.

"Mr. Warburg has not been discriminated against in any way in being asked to meet with the committee and give it information."

WAR TO LAST DITCH FOR THE MEXICANS

however, is doubted by some Villa agents.

Despite the Carranza-Villa split, it is evident one common purpose of all the constitutionalist factions seems to be to force the conquest of Mexico City and rule the country by martial law. That neither the United States nor Argentina, Brazil or Chile would recognize a military government is the opinion of many South American diplomats. Non-recognition means lack of moral and, indirectly, financial support, and the mediators do not believe the constitutionalists could maintain a government under such handicaps.

Early Statement by Washington.

In view of the lack of definite information not only on the Carranza-Villa agreement, but the purposes of the constitutionalist generals as peace conferences, a definite expression by the Washington government is not likely for a few days. At the end of the present week, however, it is believed there will be some concrete manifestation of the policy the United States intends now to pursue.

Should the constitutionalists definitely reject parleys on the internal question, the Niagara protocols become nullified. Everything agreed to there was conditioned on the establishment of a provisional government set up by the two Mexican factions. It is believed the Huerta delegates in a few days will announce the position of the Huerta government and leave New York for Mexico.

Whether mediation would terminate then, ending the armistice between American and Mexican forces at Vera Cruz, is another complication. The general impression is that the United States will continue to exert pressure to bring the factions into conferences and that in the meantime some arrangement with the Huerta government for the maintenance of the military status quo at Vera Cruz will be effected.

ADVANCE OF GEN. VILLA CHECKED BY THE POWERS

El Paso, Texas, July 8.—The Carranza-Villa mediators at Torreon remained silent today regarding negotiations to avoid a split among constitutionalist leaders.

Roberto Pesqueira, Carranza's confidential agent, tonight sent a telegram to General Villa in which he said:

"I sincerely trust that you and Mr. Carranza have become acquainted with the impostors connected with the constitutionalist cause, and that you will call for their resignations."

In the meantime the movement of Villa's troops towards the north continued. This was explained by the statement that the United States and certain European governments had brought strong pressure that Villa must not be the first to reach Mexico City.

If Guadalajara is taken by Obregon's troops, it is said, they would not be strong enough to attack Mexico City unassisted, but they could enter the national capital if the Huerta government collapsed. This would prevent Villa from entering Mexico City first and possibly forming an alliance with the Zapata guerilla troops of southern Mexico.

JUDGE HARRIS SPEAKS IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Candidate for Governor Is Given Cordial Welcome at Sandersville.

Sandersville, Ga., July 8.—(Special.) Judge Nat Harris, who arrived in Sandersville Monday evening, was given a cordial welcome by Sandersville friends and an audience of 200 greeted him at the courthouse Tuesday morning. After being introduced by W. M. Goodwin he thanked the people for the cordial greetings and promise of support, and in an address deeply touched with pathos told of the days of his young manhood spent in the adjoining county of Hancock, where he studied law in the office of Judge Linton Stephens.

He said that opponents in the race claim he is too old for public office, but that he intends to mingle with the people in every county in Georgia and let them decide for themselves how vigorous he is, with the hope of many more years of activity. He feelingly referred to the times of the war, the battle of Bull Run when southern manhood arrested the attention of the entire world in deeds of daring, although at that period untrained for the conflict that put to flight the trained troops of the federal government. Judge Harris was one of the participants in those battles, although a mere boy at the time.

The judge told of an incident that occurred a few years ago while he was passing the scene on a train. Another passenger, with an artificial leg, said that he lost his limb at Bull Run. He was from New York. When Judge Harris told him that he was also there, but in the southern army, the northern soldier grasped him by the hand and praised the gallantry that was displayed by the soldiers of both armies.

The speech, interspersed with splendid anecdotes which made it spicy and interesting, was well received.

Harris at Douglasville.

Douglasville, Ga., July 8.—(Special.) Hon. William J. Harris, candidate for governor, has been here in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Harris is well known in this county and will have a strong following here.

Mr. Harris' visit has stirred up the first interest that has been shown in the governor's race as the race for short-term senator has been attracting the most attention.

EASTMAN WOULD BE HOST TO GA. EDITORS IN 1915

Eastman, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—At an enthusiastic meeting of the business men of Eastman held in the rooms of the Commercial club it was decided to ask the Georgia Weekly Press association to hold its 1915 convention in Eastman. Hon. C. M. Methvin, editor of the Eastman Times-Journal, and Hon. B. S. Keith, editor of the Dodge County Herald, were appointed as delegates to the convention which meets in Commerce this month to present the invitation. It is the custom of the association to meet in north Georgia one year and south Georgia the next, and as it is south Georgia's time, and in view of the fact that when it met in Dublin last year, Eastman made a bid for the convention for 1915, they feel sure of securing it.

WAYCROSS WOMAN SEER MADE HAUL OF $10,000

Waycross, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Waycross officers have heard nothing of the woman fortune-teller who went by the name of Madame Rosa Lee while in this city. A reward of $100 has been offered for information of her whereabouts, but no one has claimed the reward up to date. Reports of her victims continue to pour in, and it has developed that a number of citizens of nearby towns were among those fleeced. The amount the woman secured here may never be known, but it is believed she got as much as $10,000 by the various schemes she worked, besides a few valuable rings.

DR. J. E. DICKEY PREACHES AT AUGUSTA CONFERENCE

Augusta, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—The closing session of the Augusta district conference was held this forenoon. There were a number of brief addresses and a sermon by Dr. J. E. Dickey, of Emory college.

At the business session yesterday William Beverly Mills and Clarence O. Davis, both of St. Luke's church, this city, and Robert Coleman, of Devereaux, were examined and licensed to preach. The attendance has been very good, both of delegates and the public.

WOMEN NOT WANTED BY CHICAGO ALDERMEN

Chicago, July 8.—The addition of two women to the aldermanic committee, which leaves here tonight for a six weeks study of the railway terminal and the social evil problems in Europe, brought forth a protest from male members of the committee today.

"They will be an embarrassment not only to us but to themselves," declared Alderman Ellis Geiger, who said that he spoke for himself and his colleagues. "We will have no official relations with them."

The women—Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, and Gertrude Howe Britton, a social worker—said they would make the trip and that the men were needlessly alarmed.

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There is unusual merit in the program of vaudeville that is the week's bill at the busy Forsyth. And the Forsyth is remarkably busy. Willa Holt Wakefield has "topped" bills in every important city in the United States. She has had the same honors in Europe. And here at home in the Forsyth she is demonstrating that she is one of the best headline features ever offered here. And what is a remarkable fact, there have been many comedy hits at the Forsyth and many excellent character comedians, but no one has ever eclipsed the success that is being registered by Clarke and McCullough, the tramp fun-makers. For next week one of the features will be the excellent tenor star, Will Oakland, and a supporting male quartet in a singing sketch.

"House of Bondage."

(At the Grand.)

Atlanta is agitated over the coming of the big white slave drama, "The House of Bondage." Reginald Wright Kauffman's alluring story, which opens for a three-day run at the Grand today. The picture is in six reels, and tells the pitiful story of a young and unsophisticated country girl who is lured to the city on the promise of marriage, and who is inveigled into a house of bondage. The leading role is portrayed by Lottie Pickford, a sister to Mary Pickford, the noted star. A number of the scenes were staged in New York's most notorious Chinatown, where incomparable local color was obtained. The drama will be offered at regular Grand prices.

LABOR AND FARM UNIONS NOT IN TRUST CLASS

Washington, July 8.—Efforts in the senate today to alter or eliminate the labor exemption clause of the sundry civil bill section, providing funds for enforcement of the anti-trust law were voted down. The exemption clause caused the veto of the last sundry civil bill by President Taft, and President Wilson, when he signed the same measure, characterized it as "unjustifiable in character and principle."

The clause provides that no part of the fund shall be spent in the prosecution of "any organization or any individual for entering into any combination or agreement having in view the increasing of wages, shortening of hours or bettering the conditions of labor or for any act done in furtherance thereof, not in itself unlawful." Co-operative farmers' organizations also are exempted.

Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, proposed to strike out the exemption, characterizing it as "vicious class legislation." His amendment was laid on the table by a vote of 41 to 27, only one democrat, Senator Pomerene, voting for it. An amendment by Senator Sutherland, of Utah, to insert in the provisions the words "by lawful means" was voted down, 38 to 22. The bill itself, carrying $111,000,000, was passed without further serious opposition.

WALKING IN HIS SLEEP, COL. DENNY IS KILLED

Washington, July 8.—Colonel Frank L. Denny, retired, of the marine corps, was almost instantly killed early today when he fell over a balustrade in his home to the floor below. The report to the police said he was walking in his sleep. Colonel Denny's family believe he was seized with an attack of vertigo, to which he was subject, and fell while moving about the house. He struck his head upon a marble top table on the lower floor of his house, crushing his skull. The colonel's daughter, awakened by the crash, found him dying. The coroner gave a certificate of accidental death.

Colonel Denny was one of the central figures in a controversy in the marine corps three years ago in which it was charged that a number of staff officers in Washington were controlling the corps. Former Secretary Meyer, of the navy department, after an investigation, ordered all the officers concerned to distant posts, sending Colonel Denny to San Francisco. Early in his administration President Wilson returned all to Washington. Colonel Denny was prominent in the social and club life of the capital.

ROSENWALD'S $25,000 FOR ATLANTA NEGROES

Chicago, July 8.—In accordance with his offer of $25,000 for a Young Men's Christian association building for negro men to any city in America which would raise $75,000 additional, Julius Rosenwald today sent his check for that amount to Kansas City. Since the offer was made two years ago Mr. Rosenwald has given similar amounts to Washington, Philadelphia, Indianapolis and Chicago.

He said today Los Angeles, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Baltimore and New York also have subscribed $75,000 and will receive his check as soon as minor requirements are met.

8 ARCTIC EXPLORERS THOUGHT TO BE LOST

Members of Stefansson Expedition Perish After Wreck of the Karluk.

Ottawa City, July 8.—Eight members of the Stefansson arctic expedition, who were believed to be on Wrangel island, off the coast of Alaska, with the rest of the Karluk party, which was reported safe more than a month ago, are now thought to be lost, according to a report received today by Deputy Minister of Marine Desbarrats from Captain Bartlett, in Nome. Bartlett commanded the Karluk.

The previous report, from which it was inferred that the whole party had reached Wrangel island, neglected to mention two parties of four, which set out ten days after the Karluk sank—one for Herald island and the other for an unknown shore. Neither of these parties had been heard from.

The supporting party which accompanied the first party returned and reported that progress had been stopped by open water three miles from shore. Four men were left with provisions on the edge of the ice waiting for a chance to land. That was the last heard from them. The four were Officer Alexander Anderson, of Inverkeithing, Fifeshire, Scotland; Second Officer Charles Bartlett, Seaman John Brady and Seaman Archibald King, all of Victoria, B. C.

The second party consisted of Henry Beuchat, of Paris, the anthropologist of the expedition; Allister Forbes Mackay, of Edinburgh, the surgeon of the expedition, who accompanied Shackleton on one of his expeditions; L. Murray, of Foxfield, Hantz, England, the oceanographer of the expedition; also a Shackleton man, and Thomas Morris, sailor. This party was seen a week later by an exploring expedition from the main party, which reported that Beuchat's hands were frozen, and he seemed to be in poor shape, but that he refused offers of assistance and transportation back to camp. That was the last heard of the second party.

On Feberuary 24 the main party of fourteen white men and several Esquimaux left their camp at the scene of the wreck and set out for Wrangel island, which they reached March 12 after a hard struggle. Captain Bartlett, with an Eskimo, left, seeking help. He was subsequently picked up by the whaler Herman, Captain Peterson, at Emma Harbor.

Bartlett is now at Nome waiting American revenue cutter Bear to take him, with supplies, to Wrangel island

NEGRO TAKEN FROM BED BY UNKNOWN WHITE MEN

Nothing Further Is Heard of Dublin Black After Mysterious Visitation.

Dublin, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Will Palmer, a negro, was taken out of a house here last night by a party of unknown white men and carried off. One of the men told Palmer that he was Sheriff Flanders, of this county, in order to get him out. Sheriff Flanders was at home at the time and knew nothing of the affair until it was over with.

Palmer has not been seen since he was carried off by the men, and what has been done with him is unknown. Sam Williams, another negro sleeping with Palmer, was hit over the head with a pistol and when he ran off was shot twice, receiving two serious wounds.

No motive for taking the negro out is known, neither is their any clue to the men who took him out. Several shots were heard shortly after they left the house, but whether they were at him or some one else no one knows. The sheriff is working on the case.

LOCKRIDGE DECLINES TO NAME WITNESSES

Ends Hardwick-Slaton-West Controversy as Far as He Is Concerned.

J. D. Lockridge, the chief and only witness of Congressman Hardwick in the latter's charge that Senator W. S. West conducted a campaign of intimidation against Governor Slaton to force the latter to appoint him to the United States senate, is out in a card of explanation.

It will be recalled that Mr. Lockridge was announced to be a great friend of Senator West, etc. Senator West at once replied that Lockridge was not only not his friend, but that he was merely a casual acquaintance and that it was absurd that such a man should have been chosen as emissary by him. He repudiated the statement in toto.

Later on it developed that Lockridge, Mr. Hardwick's chief witness against Governor Slaton and Senator West, was under indictment in Jeff Davis county.

Now comes Mr. Lockridge, who says he could back up his assertion, but he does not desire to drag other names into the controversy. He admits that he is under indictment in Jeff Davis county and gives explanation of the reason. Then he announces that so far as he is concerned the controversy is at an end.

Lockridge's Card in Full.

In his card he says:

Unfortunately there has arisen a controversy about my statement that Senator W. S. West, at the time he was an applicant to succeed the late Senator Bacon, told me that unless Governor Slaton appointed him, he would run for the senate and spend $75,000 on the race.

The facts are that he did make this statement. I told a number of my friends about it at the time, and have discussed it with them since, and they all recall it. I do not mention their names now, simply because I do not desire to drag them into the controversy. Any one familiar with politics at the time knows, however, that this statement was a matter of common knowledge, and was talked in the lobbies of all the Atlanta hotels.

In an effort to discredit my statement, a news story was sent to some of the papers that I was "wanted" in Jeff Davis county.

While no direct statement was made, the inference from the article was that I was a fugitive from justice. I have no desire to try any law case in the newspapers. At the proper time, I am entirely ready to meet the matter in the courthouse, but I do object to a statement in the paper which suggests that I have not at all times been perfectly ready to appear in this matter.

Before the publication of this article, I had been to Jeff Davis county and seen the sheriff about the indictment, and offered to make bond. The date was the latter part of February. He stated to me that he had no bench warrant then, and could not accept the bond. As soon as the statement came out in the paper, I went back to Douglas, and met the sheriff of Jeff Davis county there, and at once made a satisfactory bond for the amount asked, namely, three hundred ($300) dollars. I could have made it for several thousand just as readily. I have in my possession affidavits showing the transaction, as above stated.

While I do not expect to discuss the charge in the newspapers, I wish to make this statement: Two notes were given covering a purchase of certificates in the company which was headed by the Hon. J. Pope Brown. I was merely the agent of the company in selling the same. I was not one of the executive officers of the company, and did not know the details of its business, but, like many other citizens of Georgia, I had, and have now, great confidence in the gentleman who headed it. One of these notes was shortly after that taken up by a certificate of deposit. The other note matured on the first of December, 1912, and was paid with interest, and without suit. After the failure of the company, and over a year after the payment of this note, this charge was brought against me, claiming that the rate of interest was added after the note was signed. The parties are simply mistaken in their recollection of the transaction. I have no ill feeling towards them whatever. I am sorry that the certificates that I sold them for the company proved to be in a company that was not as sound as I thought it was; but no one who knows me, and all of the leading business men of that section of Georgia do know me, will doubt for a moment my honesty in the transaction. They were not my certificates and the interest meant nothing to me.

I do not intend to discuss the matter further in the papers, but I thought it was due to my friends all through Georgia, to make a brief statement of the facts of the transaction. J. D. LOCKRIDGE.

Delegation Leaves Atlanta Saturday to Attend Meeting Of Fertilizer Associations

President W. L. Peel, of the Southern Fertilizer association, will head a delegation from Atlanta on Saturday of this week, which will go to Hot Springs, Va., to attend the ninth annual meeting of the Southern Fertilizer association on July 13, and also the twenty-first annual convention of the National Fertilizer association, which meets at the same place on July 14, 15 and 16.

Among those who will attend this convention from Atlanta will be: D. B. Osborne, P. H. Newton and T. N. Stewart, of the Armour Fertilizer works; H. C. Fisher and W. E. Richards, of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company; J. R. Porter, of the Porter Fertilizer company; W. L. Peele, of the Old Dominion Guano company; J. N. Robinson of the Morris Fertilizer works, and others.

The party will be joined at Athens by Harry Hodgson, of the Empire State Chemical company, who with W. E. Richards, of Atlanta, and T. N. Stewart, of Atlanta, chairman, compose the soil improvement committee of the Southern Fertilizer association, which has been doing such splendid work during the past two years, in an effort to teach the planter how to secure the best results from an intelligent use of fertilizer.

The party will return the latter part of next week.

EMPIRE LIFE OF GEORGIA

State's Audit Shows Resources Are Substantial. Company's New Building. Its Record of Leadership.

The insurance department of the state of Georgia completed recently an examination of the Empire Life Insurance Company of Georgia. The report covers the period from the date of the previous examination, December 31, 1912, to December 31, 1913.

Later the insurance department completed an exhaustive supplementary report, carrying back to March 5, 1912, the date of the organization of the Empire Life, the official scrutiny of the company's condition and operations.

Certified by the State.

Audited by the insurance department, main items in the Empire Life Insurance Company's balance sheet on December 31, 1913, were as follows:

Net admitted assets	$1,725,896.54
Net reserves	1,314,890.12
Net surplus to policyholders	314,144.45

The total income of the company in 1913 was $731,452.94, of which $623,732.33 was from premiums and $64,030.79 from investments.

Extended to cover the entire period of the company's business, income from all sources is shown by the Georgia insurance department to have been $3,021,442.92, and disbursements $1,272,352.65, leaving a balance of $1,749,090.27 of net ledger assets, of which $1,725,896.54 represented the admitted assets, on December 31 last.

The insurance account of the company from March 5, 1912, to December 31, 1913, shows an income, practically all from premiums, of $1,174,177.30 and disbursements of $869,682.26—an ipcome in excess of disbursements of $304,495.02.

A Working Chief Executive.

In the reorganization of the Empire Life from a mutual to a stock basis, the important negotiations for the substitution of capital stock for the outstanding certificates of the mutual company were conducted personally by the president of the company, Mr. W. W. Reid, with satisfaction to all concerned.

The new company is now well launched. At the end of 1913, it had 9,285 policies in force, insuring $18,164,148. The premium receipts in 1913 were $623,732, against $548,763 in 1912, showing substantial progress.

The insurance department speaks well of the company's dealings with its policyholders. Official salaries are moderate. Commissions paid for the sale of stock have not exceeded the limit of 10 per cent allowed under the Georgia statutes.

The Empire Life is building a seventeen-story skyscraper in Augusta, Ga., in which its home office is to be located. It is to be one of the finest buildings in the south. Construction is of steel, terra cotta, and white pressed brick.

A "Leader in the Life Field."

The management of the company is vigorous and progressive, and is making history rapidly.

The officers have reason to be justly proud of the payments made to policyholders during 1913. The amount thus paid exceeds the figures of many older companies, some of which were organized prior to 1870.

The Empire Life maintains an efficient agency organization. The company is licensed to do business in Georgia, Alabama and Florida. It is at the head of a list of twelve other companies organized in the same year, that is, 1908.

The company is also prominently mentioned among the foremost "Leaders in the Life Field," as published for 1913.

Another highly commendable feature of President Reid's management is that the Empire Life is the only company that has kept absolute faith with the holders of income certificates and has protected every one of them by exchanging certificates for stock upon reorganization. It will be recalled that the Georgia supreme court declared that income certificates were not to be held as a liability, hence the Empire Life's square deal is the more notable because it was wholy voluntary—The Insurance Press, June 24, 1914. COLE BLEASE BARS TROOPS OF GEORGIA

Will Not Allow Them to Pass Through State of South Carolina.

Adjutant General Joseph Van Holt Nash is in receipt of a letter from the adjutant general of South Carolina, stating that no Georgia troops will be allowed to pass through the state of South Carolina en route to the July camp of instructions at Augusta, pending settlement of the differences now existing between South Carolina and the war department.

Before troops can pass from one state to another permission must be granted by the governor of the state through which the troops are to pass, and this permission was asked of the governor of South Carolina, and was refused by him through his adjutant general.

Should Governor Blease hold to his present attitude it will cost the troops of North Carolina a large sum of money, as they will have to go all the way around the state of South Caroline.

The Georgia troops affected are companies at Savannah, Elberton and Abbeville. They had planned to save an additional expense by cutting through a small section of South Carolina.

Governor Blease is not on particularly cordial terms with the state of Georgia, and it is understood that his order was directed as much against the state of Georgia as the war department.

Blease Denies Permission.

Savannah, Ga., July 8.—Governor Blease, of South Carolina, has declined to grant permission for the Georgia Hussars, a cavalry company of Savannah, to travel through South Carolina en route to the state military encampment at Augusta, next month. The Hussars had been routed via Blackville, S. C., but the commander is advised by the Georgia military authorities that the route must be changed because of the attitude of Governor Blease. The re-routing will cause no serious inconvenience.

Not Taken Seriously.

Raleigh, N. C., July 8.—Although Adjutant General Young was en route to Camp Glenn today, it was stated in his office that the second regiment of troops A and B certainly would attempt to pass through South Carolina unless the war department at Washington gave other orders. Inquiry was made at both the governor's office and the adjutant general's office, where the report from Columbia was not taken seriously.

TIGHT BARREL MEN OPPOSE PROHIBITION

Memphis, Tenn., July 8.—Declaring that the proposed prohibition amendment to the federal constitution is both impractical and confiscatory, the National Association of Tight Barrel Stave Manufacturers today adopted a resolution opposing the prohibition movement. It is stated the gradual spread of prohibition has cut down the demand for tight barrels, thus making inroads on the business of stave manufacturers. More than 100 representatives of manufacturing interests are attending the convention now in session.

HE KILLED AFFINITY AT COMMAND OF GOD

Muscogee, Okla., July 8.—Syl M. Smith, at one time a prominent wholesale merchant of this city, charged with the murder of Mrs. Bessie Brown, for whom it is alleged he deserted his wife and children, was found guilty by a jury here today. Smith was sentenced to thirty years in the state prison.

Mrs. Brown had tired of Smith, it is said. He followed her on the street and shot her in the back. As his victim ran, screaming down the street, Smith followed and, overtaking her, clubbed her to death with his revolver, according to the evidence.

Smith's unique defense was that "God had commanded him to kill the woman."

Negro College for Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., July 8.—At a joint meeting here tonight of committees representing the several branches of the Baptist church, Memphis was selected as the location of the proposed National Negro Baptist Theological seminary, which is to be erected at a cost of $100,000.

INSPECTION OF MEAT PLANNED BY M'CORD

Bill Will Aid Farmers and at Same Time Protect the Consumers.

For the purpose of aiding farmers in the shipment of meat into Atlanta, and at the same time protecting consumers, Councilman J. L. McCord, of the second ward, has prepared an ordinance which will require an inspection of meat in the counties or municipalities where it is slaughtered.

His ordinance is not considered drastic, and according to its provisions it will not inconvenience farmers nor put them to any considerable amount of trouble. It simply allows persons to ship from all points within the state into the city of Atlanta meat which bears a stamp of inspection at the point where it has been slaughtered. It also provides that such meat shipped into the city and bearing an inspection stamp shall again be inspected by an officer of the city health board.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, has approved the McCord measure, in fact, he added another section to the measure which will require railroads and carriers of freight to identify carcasses or meat products as animals slaughtered by a farmer on the farm.

The above applied only to uninspected meat, and was inserted in the McCord measure for the purpose of compelling the railroad agents to certify that meats offered for shipment were sound, healthful and wholesome at the time offered. This section was added in order that farmers in remote districts where there are no inspections might not be interfered with.

The ordinance will be introduced in council next Monday. Councilman McCord explained Wednesday that he has been promised the aid of Councilman Claude L. Ashley and Alderman Charles H. Kelley. Councilman Ashley is chairman of the sanitary committee of council, and ex-officio member of the health board.

GREETERS' CONVENTION CAME TO END WEDNESDAY

The annual convention of the Southeastern Greeters' association, which was in session in Atlanta on Tuesday and Wednesday, wound up in a veritable blaze of glory Wednesday night with the grand ball at the Ansley hotel. The ball followed an elaborate dinner.

Wednesday was a continuual round of pleasure for the visitors. They started out as the breakfast guests of Manager A. R. Keen, at the Georgian Terrace, after which they were taken upon a tour of the city and of Fulton county, stopping for lunch with "Farmer Bill" Zimmer, at Kimballville farm. In the afternoon they visited the federal prison and other points of interest.

On Tuesday, following action to make the convention annual instead of semi-annual as in the past, R. Frank Taylor, assistant manager of the Piedmont hotel, and Leslie D. Fairchild, assistant manager of the Tutwiler hotel, of Birmingham, were re-elected to fill the offices of president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. They will serve until next summer, when it has been decided that the convention will meet in Birmingham.

FAMILY NEARS DEATH WHEN RESIDENCE BURNS

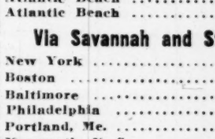

An early morning fire totally destroyed the residence of Joseph A. Marchbanks, 491 Sunset avenue, and of Morgan Dodson, 489 Sunset avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Marchbanks and their two small sons, narrowly escaping from the burning house in time to save their lives.

Leila Marchbanks, age 15, the eldest of the children, was caught in her room by the fire, and was forced to knock the screen out of her window with her fists, and jump out of it, clad only in her night clothes.

The fire is believed to have started in the kitchen of the Marchbanks' residence, and spread to the Dodson home.

Great sparks flew from the burning houses to the roofs of others in the neighborhood, and for a time it looked as though seven houses would be burned. The arrival of another fire company prevented the spread of the flames.

Patrolmen Long and Malcolm, whose beats were nearby, saw the flames, and rushed to the scene and turned in the fire alarm.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR BILL IS LOST IN HOUSE

Lacked Seven of Necessary Two-Thirds Vote--Warm Debate Precedes Balloting.

There will be no lieutenant governor of Georgia, not in the immediate future at any rate, as the house yesterday morning killed a bill creating such an office by constitutional amendment. The bill provided that such an amendment should be submitted to the people. The vote stood: For the bill 115, against the bill 56. As a two-thirds vote of the house membership was required the bill was lost. The vote required was 122.

All of Wednesday morning's session of the house, except the time for the introduction of new bills, was taken up in debate on the lieutenant governor bill. Those who pressed the passage of the measure stated that under existing conditions, the governor of Georgia might die or resign and the state would be without a governor for eight months, as the president of the senate, who now succeeds the governor, would no longer be a public official after the senate had adjourned sine die. It was also stated that elections when governors resigned cost the state something like $20,000.

Those Who Were Opposed.

Those who opposed the measure objected to the creation of a new office and took the position that the present law had worked well in the past and would work well in the future.

Those who spoke for the bill were: Mr. Slater, of Bryan; Mr. Fulbright, of Burke; Mr. Culpepper, of Meriwether; Mr. Miller, of Bibb; Mr. Gower, of Crisp; Mr. Griffin, of Lowndes; Mr. Moss, of Cobb; Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton; Mr. Greene, of Houston; Mr. Pickett, of Richmond.

Mr. Moye, of Johnson, lead the debate against the bill. The others who were against the bill only spoke when explaining their votes.

Mr. Culpepper, of Meriwether, gave notice of a motion to reconsider.

Mr. Wheatley, of Crawford, the author of the bill, believes it may be possible to have the bill acted on at this session.

Mr. Moss Was Angry.

Before the regular order of business was taken up, Mr. Moss, of Cobb, spoke on a question of personal privilege. That he was angry when he arose was plain to see. His speech caused quite a ripple of excitement. He said that a bill of his, one to repeal the law allowing freight trains to run on the Sabbath, had been summarily taken from the general judiciary committee, No. 1, without his knowledge or consent, and was sent to the railroad committee. After telling the members of the house how he had been treated he asked unanimous consent to have the bill re-referred to the general judiciary committee. Mr. Wohlwender, of Muscogee, chairman of the judiciary committee, No. 1, objected, but when it was explained to him how matters stood he at once withdrew his objection. Mr. Holtzclaw, of Houston, then objected, and the bill is still with the railroad committee. Mr. Moss stated that he wanted the bill acted on Wednesday afternoon as he had invited a large number of interested people to appear before the committee. Mr. Holtzclaw stated that he wanted the bill to go to the railroad committee because it belonged there. Mr. Holtzclaw is opposed to the bill.

Among the new bills introduced in the house was one by the Muscogee delegation which provides for any non-resident to validate county and city bonds, if such non-resident is an owner of real estate in the county or city where the bonds are issued.

Mr. Green, of Wilkes, introduced a bill to require all corporations doing business in the state to file semi-annual reports with the secretary of the state of their financial condition.

Six Members Were Absent.

Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, who is the chairman of the house committee on constitutional amendments and who had to cast the deciding vote of his committee that disapproved the woman's suffrage bill, stated to a reporter of The Constitution, that six members of the committee were absent Tuesday and five of them, if they had been present, would have voted against the bill. The absentees, he said, were: Mr. Gower, of Crisp, Mr. Wimberly, of Bibb; Mr. Adams, of Hall; Mr. Smith, of Fannin; Mr. Glenn, of Whitfield; Mr. Griffin, of Lowndes; Mr. Hopkins, of Thomas. Mr. Glenn, he stated, was the only one of the six who was for the bill.

The house will meet again this morning at 10 o'clock, when bills requiring constitutional amendments will be taken up.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH TO PLAN WAR ON RATS

Will Ask Legislature for Appropriation to Use if an Emergency Arises.

Macon, Ga., July 8.—The state board of health will meet in Atlanta tomorrow to map out a plan for the extermination of rats in Georgia and also ask for an appropriation from the legislature now in session to be used in the event an emergency arises. This announcement was made here tonight by the president of the board, Dr. H. J. Williams.

Today Secretary H. F. Harris wired all of the cities of the state a message from Surgeon General Glennan, at Washington, giving the situation at New Orleans and urging a campaign for rat extermination.

"The state board of health will lose no time," said Dr. Williams tonight. "There is always danger of this dangerous disease spreading, especially along the Atlantic coast, while germs might be carried in freight from Mississippi river points."

WAYCROSS BUILDINGS FIRED BY LIGHTNING

Waycross, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Early tonight a severe electrical and rainstorm swept this section doing considerable damage in and around the city. A barn at the Sandard Oil company's plant was hit and fired, and a mule killed. The fire was checked promptly with slight damage. A one-story dwelling on Albany avenue, owned by Humphreys and Williamson, was struck and gutted by the fire, doing damage estimated at $400. Mounted Officer W. C. Gardner was shocked while standing in the door of P. H. Skelton's store on Gilmore, and a pole nearby splintered. Street car traffic was interrupted and many telephones put out of commission.

Telegraphic communication was but slightly damaged, although many poles on the outskirts were hit. Reports from points south of the city indicate that the storm has done much damage. Approximately three inches of rain fell.

VALDOSTA SALOONISTS ENTER PLEA OF GUILTY

Valdosta, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—A surprise was sprung in court today when ten near beer dealers who had not yet stood trial entered conditional pleas of guilty. All but one defendant, who was ill and unable to appear in court, entered into the agreement.

The pleas are conditional on the court's allowing them to be withdrawn if, in the cases of defendants already tried and convicted, the court of appeals should reverse the trial court because of lack of evidence. Should the higher court reverse the lower court on a technical point the pleas of guilty are to stand.

Colored Musical Festival Opens With Fine Program

The fifth annual music festival of the Georgia Music Festival association, formerly known as the Atlanta Colored Musical Festival association, opened last night at the First Congregational church, colored, with a splendid program.

Wednesday night was called "all women's night," and a chorus of some fifty women, augmented by several artists, sang.

"Roumanian Love Song," sung by the chorus, was particularly beautiful, the deep minor chants of the song lending itself well to the negro voice.

Sylvia Ward Olden, who sang the "jewel song" from Faust, has a really wonderful coloratura soprano voice. She responded to an encore, and the audience seemed anxious to hear her again.

Mamie Ridley's piano solo and her piano duet with Professor Carl Rossini Diton, of Philadelphia, who is the conductor of the festival, showed her to be a musician of no mean talent.

Other members on the program were fairy choruses by the young people's chorus; an organ solo by Mamie Askew; female sextette; "Faith, Hope and Love," by the chorus, and as the final number, the cantata, "The Death of Joan of Arc."

In the audience last night were a number of white people, who greatly enjoyed the music. The crowd, however, was rather slim on account of the rain.

The festival will last through Thursday and Friday nights. Thursday night is "jubilee night," and the program contains many negro folk songs. Among the artists of Thursday night are N. W. Ryder and J. W. Work and wife.

The real piece de resistance of the festival will come Friday night, when the program consists of "the grand concert," featuring Anita Patti Brown, of Chicago, who is pleasantly remembered from her singing at the Auditorium in the festival of last year.

CARL ROSSINI DITON,
Of Philadelphia, conductor of the fifth annual music festival under the auspices of the Georgia Music Festival association.

HUIE GARNISHMENT BILL IS ADOPTED BY SENATE

Allows Garnisheeing of Wages of Laborers Making More Than $1 a Day.

The garnishment bill, as originally introduced last year by Senator Huie, of the thirty-fifth, passed the senate yesterday morning by a vote of 32 to 8.

This bill provides for the garnishment of the wages of mechanics, journeymen and day laborers whose salaries are in excess of $1 per day. While this bill allows manual laborers to be garnisheed, there is an exemption clause for the garnishment of wages of $1 per day and one-half of the wages earned in excess of this amount.

Substitute Lost.

This bill was reported favorably last year by the general judiciary committee of the senate by a substitute which exempted $100 of the salary of mechanics, journeymen and day laborers. This substitute was lost in the senate by a vote of 27 to 13. An amendment to the substitute by Senator Irwin making the limit of exemption $50 instead of $100 was lost by a vote of 20 to 19.

Senator Sweat, of the fifth, proposed an amendment to exempt all employees doing mental or physical labor making not more than $100 a month. This amendment was lost. Senator Sweat said that at present the wages of those who perform manual labor are exempt from garnishment regardless of how much they make, and that this was neither fair nor right.

Those who were against the passage of the bill made a strong fight, staving off a vote on the question as long as possible. Upon every vote a yea and nay vote was called by those opposing the bill.

Bitterly Opposes Bill.

Senator Irwin, bitterly opposed to its passage, said: "The shylocks of Georgia have been continually hanging around this senate every since the bill was introduced in an effort to get their pound of flesh nearest the heart."

Those who voted for the bill were Senators Allen, Brown, Bulloch, Burtz, Bush, Chennault, Converse, Dickey, Hixon, Huie, Jones, S. E. Jones, W. W. Johnson, Kea, Kelly, Longino, McGregor, Miller, Moore, Olliff, Parrish, Perry, Peyton, Pope, Richardson, Smith, Spinks, Stark, Tarver, Taylor, Tyson and Watts—32.

Against the bill: Senators Elkins, Ford, Harrell, Irwin, Rushin, Searcy, Sweat and Turner—8.

Senator Harrell, of the twelfth, gave notice of a reconsideration of the bill of Senator Olliff, which provides for the election of county officers for a four-year term instead of two, which was passed Tuesday.

ROOSEVELT IS URGED TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

New York, July 8.—For two hours today the progressive leaders of New York state used every argument at their command to induce Colonel Roosevelt to agree to accept the nomination for governor. Colonel Roosevelt later said that he had nothing to say at this time and would not change his previous statements declining to run. It was understood that the question was still an open one, with the colonel continuing to stand out against the proposal that he should head the state ticket.

Red Blotchy Skin Easily Remedied

Bathe Your Blood with a Cooling, Purifying Remedy

One of the Daily Perils

When your blood is overheated the congestion or inflammation makes straight for the skin. Then is the time you need that famous blood purifier S. S. S. The skin is a modified form of mucous membrane and it is in these membranes that impurities in the blood are prepared for expulsion. S. S. S. has a most remarkable action in assisting the membranes to eliminate those secretions which are the result of inflammation whether they take the form of catarrh or red patches on the skin. Its cooling, purifying effect is almost immediate since in three minutes after entering the blood it traverses the entire circulation. It so acts upon the cellular tissues in the skin that each cell rejects any invading germ and selects only its own essential nutriment from the blood.

These facts are brought out in a strikingly illustrated book "What the Mirror Tells" which is mailed free by the Swift Specific Co., 108 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist and thus insure pure blood and consequent health. Beware of imitations and disappointing substitutes.

RECEIVER REQUESTED FOR THE EMPIRE LIFE

James R. Brown Declares the Company Is Insolvent in Petition Filed Wednesday.

Alleging that he had been inveigled to take stock in the Empire Life Insurance company, James R. Brown, former judge of the Cherokee circuit, has filed a petition in Fulton superior court asking that a receiver be appointed for the Empire Life, and that h recover $6,000 invested in the organization.

The petition was filed by Attorneys Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman; Charles T. & Linton Hopkins, and Carroll Latimer. Judge Ellis issued a rule nisi, citing the company to show cause on July 18 why a receiver should not be named. The petition charges that the Empire Life Insurance company is insolvent to the extent of $350,000, and that it has given an inflated value to the building which it owns, the Empire Life, in a statement to the insurance commissioner of the state, and has failed to list in its liabilities $100,000 of annuity claims and a $25,000 death claim.

Also, that the petitioner had been led to believe that there was but one company, when, in reality, the Empire Life represented two corporations. The petition likewise charges that it was represented to Judge Brown at the time of his investment that the company was thoroughly solvent, and that it desired, therefore, to retire its outstanding investment certificates. It is alleged that the official auditing of the corporation shows it to be insolvent.

Statement of Company's Attorney.

Frank E. Hooper, attorney for the company, says: "The company was surprised this morning to learn that Judge James R. Brown, of Canton, brought proceedings against the Empire Life Insurance company to recover $6,000 invested by him in that corporation. It seems from the petition that he has labored under the impression that the capital stock of the corporation was $100 per share, when as a matter of fact the par value of each share of capital stock is only $20. The company's contention that it is really a misunderstanding or forgetfulness on his part is borne out by the fact that its hundreds of stockholders hold stock of the par value of $20 per share, and this the only denomination of stock issued by it. It is to be regretted that any misunderstanding of this sort has arisen, and it will doubtless be adjusted as soon as the parties fully understand one another.

"The statements filed by the company with the insurance department show it to be in fine condition and that its net earnings for the past two years have been up in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, and its solvency is demonstrated by these showings beyond question. Under an agreement with the Augusta stockholders the company is under contract to remove its headquarters to Augusta sometime in the near future. The Augusta parties have deposited $250,000 in cash and agreed to deposit $150,000 more after the removal of its headquarters. A sixteen-story office building is now nearing completion in Augusta, which speaks for itself as to the appreciation of the citizens of that territory of the company's worth."

200 AT SWAINSBORO HEAR FELDER SPEAK

Candidate for Senate Discusses Platform and Attacks His Opponents.

Swainsboro, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Hon. Thomas S. Felder, candidate for the senate, spoke here today in the interest of his candidacy. There were about 200 voters out to hear him and his remarks were listened to attentively.

Mr. Felder spoke mostly of his platform, vigorously scoring Governor Slaton and Mr. Hardwick, but never mentioning the other candidates in the race. He expressed every confidence in his election and accused Governor Slaton of having pilfered his platform of three planks; good roads, agricultural appropriations and the peonage repeal.

The speaker accused his opponents of mud slinging, criticized the governor for not resigning his office to run for senator. He denied any partnership with Congressman Hardwick in an effort to divide the state in his canvass. He cited numerous instances where he and the congressman have been in the same county, among them Emanuel and Telfair.

Mr. Felder spent quite a deal of time in getting acquainted about the city, at all times expressing his confidence in his election.

Dead Under Auto.

Patchogue, L. I., July 8.—Edwin Bailey, a former state senator, and John Brooks, both of this place, were found dead today under the hood of Bailey's wrecked automobile, on the outskirts of the village. The automobile apparently skidded and turned over.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT NEGRO CONGRESS

Delegates to Young People's Meeting Welcomed to Atlanta by Bishop Flipper.

The Young People's Congress of the A. M. E. church opened at Big Bethel A. M. E. church last night. Bishop W. H. Heard, of Africa, and Dr. H. D. Canady, of Atlanta, led the devotions. A. W. Hall, of Los Angeles, Cal., sung two selections, while H. P. Andrews, of Jacksonville, Fla., upon chimes, gave a rendition of a song written by one of the members of the congress.

While the singing was going on an old man, who was a member of the Methodist church before the war, danced before the altar in the old-fashioned way, and many were heard to shout "Hallalujah!"

Bishop J. S. Flipper, of Atlanta, in opening the meeting, said: "You are here in the Empire State of the South. Not only so, but you are here where Methodism is stronger than anywhere in the world. The largest Methodist conference of Methodists upon the face of the globe is in Georgia. The African Methodist Episcopal church in Georgia is one-sixth of the entire connection. You will get good treatment here in Georgia, and when you leave here many of you will have a different impression of our southland."

Other speakers were Rev. R. V. Branch, D. D., pastor of the Allen Temple, A. M. E. church; Rev. P. G. Simmons, presiding elder of the Griffin district; W. L. Dickerson, of Bethel church; Dr. W. A. Fountain, president of Morris Brown university, and Dr. A. L. Gaines, of Baltimore.

Bishop Flipper introduced Professor Ira T. Bryant and Dr. J. C. Caldwell, of Nashville, the promoters of the conference. The registration shows that there will be one of the largest attendances here of any negro meeting ever held in Atlanta.

The congress proper begins today.

Dr. R. V. Branch, in his address, said: "The greatest asset of the negro race is its young people. The duty of the church is to prepare the young negro for all the duties of life, so that the nation, the state and society will not be menaced, but blessed by them as the years go by."

Dr. A. L. Gaines, of Baltimore, said: "We are here in a campaign to settle upon those universal facts which touch the whole human race. We in the African Methodist pulpits are not only working for the spiritual uplift of the race, but we are trying to lift our boys and girls industriously, morally, intellectually and every other way that will make them useful to society and a benefit generally to the communities in which they live."

A chorus of one hundred voices rendered several selections. This chorus is led by J. R. Porter, superintendent of Big Bethel Sunday school.

A REAL ISSUE AT LAST.

Above the wordy storm of the short-term senatorial campaign there rises at last one genuine issue.

Governor John M. Slaton, one of the candidates, in his original announcement, and repeatedly since, has advocated explicitly the maintenance of the present general parcel post and the extension of the principle.

Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick, one of the governor's opponents, explicitly and over his own signature, opposes the present parcel post system, in principle, and favors a parcel post limited to rural route on which the package originates. He thinks the express companies furnish sufficient facilities for transportation of parcel post packages.

There's the line of cleavage, sharp, clean-cut, without a doubt as to where the governor stands, and without a doubt as to where Mr. Hardwick stands.

To remove all question, here are the congressman's own words, taken from his signed public statement:

"Mr. Slaton insists, with great gusto, that I was opposed to the general parcel post. He is simply thrashing out old straw again. I took my position on this question before the people of the tenth district in the heated election of 1910. In an open letter to the people of that district, dated May 26, 1910, and widely distributed among the people, I said:

"'I favor a parcel post limited to the rural routes upon which the parcel originates.'

"The general parcel post seemed to me to be open to several serious objections, and I think so yet.

"First, I do not consider that it is any part of the business of the government to engage in the business of a common carrier, to transport either persons or property for hire.

"Second, We had conferred on the interstate commerce commission, by the Hepburn bill, full power to regulate the charges and practices of the express companies, and it seemed to me this was the real way to control them, just as we control the railroads.

"Third. I feared that if we installed the system, in as large a country as ours, something might happen just about like what the senator from Florida (Mr. Bryan) recently claimed has happened, or is threatened: 'We get our mail by freight, and our freight by mail.'"

Like every freeborn American citizen, Mr. Hardwick is entitled to his convictions, and to the expression of them. We admire his candor. It comes in time to let the farmers of Georgia know exactly where they stand in the matter of a general parcel post.

Governor Slaton would, if made senator, maintain and extend the present parcel post system.

Mr. Hardwick would, if made senator, be in sympathy with any movement to confine the parcel post to delivery of packages only on the routes on which they are mailed.

How would that scheme work? The farmers ought to know.

If parcel post service were confined to the rural free delivery route upon which a package originated, the farmer living on a route in any county could only mail a package to and receive one from some point on that same route.

The rest of all civilization, the hope of extending his profits by using the parcel post to market his products, would be closed to the farmer. The farmer could not receive packages outside of his own route. He could not even receive purchases from the country store by parcel post if that store were not on his own rural route.

The development of the parcel post in the United States is one of the twentieth century marvels. It has opened a door of hope to the farmer and to the city man. It has increased the revenues of one, broadened his markets, and lowered the cost of living to the other. The beneficent revolutions it may effect are only in their incipiency.

Yet all these benefits accomplished, and benefits in prospect, would be destroyed at a blow, if Mr. Hardwick's idea of a parcel post prevailed.

Mr. Hardwick intimates that the express companies can furnish sufficient parcel service. Suppose congress had taken, or even now takes, that view.

The only persons who would get the benefit of a package service would be those who lived within reach of an express office. The great rural population, 90 per cent or more of which lives remote from an express office, would be barred from the right to participate in a package service.

IT IS A MYSTERY TO US HOW ANY ONE CAN DEFEND THIS FLAGRANT DISCRIMINATION AGAINST THE FARMING CLASSES.

The Constitution's pioneer agitation for a parcel post gives it the right to speak. That is why we are interested in the statement of Governor Slaton that he favors the utmost extension of the facilities of the parcel post; a statement reiterated the other day in a ringing speech before the rural carriers of Georgia, who cheered him to the echo; and it is also why we are interested in Mr. Hardwick's no less candid statement of opposite views on the parcel post.

Governor Slaton for the extended parcel post. Congressman Hardwick against it. Both candidates offering for the same high position.

Issue is joined clearly and unmistakably. For whichever candidate the farmers of Georgia vote, they will do so in full light as to how these candidates stand on an issue of paramount interest to every farmer in this and every other state.

CLIMAX FOR THE TECH.

With the appointment by President Wilkinson, of the chamber of commerce, of a "flying squadron" of representative Atlanta business men to close up the whirlwind subscription campaign for the Georgia School of Technology, the end of a highly constructive crusade should be in sight.

Of the half million to be raised for the expansion fund of the Tech, it is planned that Atlanta contribute $100,000. Already, as the result of a remarkable canvass, by the committee headed by J. R. A. Hobson, $65,000 of that amount has been pledged. The securing of the remaining $35,000 devolves upon the "flying squadron," and ought to involve no difficulty whatever.

The Georgia School of Technology is one of the foremost assets of Atlanta and the state. In its relatively brief career it has recorded a phenomenal growth that testifies to the wonderful industrial expansion of the state. What Georgia and Tech have done in the past in the way of expansion is only an earnest of what they are going to do in the future. Georgia essentially is an industrial commonwealth, and in the very near future her command of raw resources, her water power and her transportation facilities will give her pre-eminence throughout the south.

An institution for supplying men technically educated for industrial work is one of the indispensable requisites of every industrial state. The Georgia School of Technology furnishes this institute for Georgia. In its amplified state it also will furnish laboratory facilities for the industrial enterprises now here and for the many more destined to come here. What this one agency means in research and experimental work is almost past estimate.

That Atlanta should furnish the site from an institution of this natuure is a privilege. The subscription made by Atlantans and Atlanta enterprises are not benefactions. They are solid, permanent investments, the dividends from which will increase with the years.

TICK ERADICATION.

In a communication published today, L. W. Jarman, of the State Chamber of Commerce, analyzes the significance of the failure of the appropriations committee of the house of representatives of the legislature to appropriate anything toward tick eradication in Georgia.

Mr. Jarman's estimate is not overdrawn. If there is even a temporary cessation in this work the results may seriously penalize Georgia farmers.

Until proceeds from the new tax law are available, The Constitution urges on the appropriations committee extraordinary efforts to the end that the state's antiquated fiscal system shall not bring a halt to the vital work of tick eradication.

Meanwhile, it is well to bear in mind the danger of extremism in efforts to rid the state of this pest. As a broad general principle, there should be no suggestion of let-up in the campaign to rid cattle on farms and ranges of ticks, but there is no valid reason why Georgia should go even further than the federal government, which permits the shipment of cattle from state to state absolutely quarantine at the packing house, provided—the cattle are slaughtered immediately on arrival at the packing house if suspected of tick infection. The block is the best remedy for the tick.

State regulations should not contravene federal regulations and compel suspected cattle to stay in quarantine at a packing house. That is a wholly needless expense upon the farmer and the packer. It does the campaign no good. It penalizes everybody. The sensible plan is to slaughter immediately on arrival at destination. That is the federal method, and Georgia cannot improve on it. If we insist on the six-day quarantine we simply invite the Georgia farmer to ship his cattle to another state, where such profitless regulations do not prevail. When that happens the tick eradication campaign gains nothing and the home packer and farmer are the losers. Kill the tick on the farm! That's the place to do the work!

MEDIATION MAY REOPEN.

Through the conflicting mazes of reports from Mexico the probability looms that Villa and Carranza have patched their differences and will shortly authorize constitutionalist representatives to meet the representatives of Huerta. Such is the gist of rumors both from Torreon, where representatives of Carranza and Villa met, and from Washington, which has now taken the place of Niagara Falls as the center of interest.

Two features project much uncertainty into the situation: (1) Doubt as to whether the peace between Villa and Carranza is final; (2) doubt as to whether representatives of Huerta and of Carranza can get together on the choice for a provisional president and land reforms, conceding that they meet at all.

The row between the fiery Villa and Carranza conceals a good deal more than it discloses. From a bandit Villa has risen until he is today the foremost fighting man in Mexico. There is little doubt that he has developed definite ambitions, and the only question is how vaulting they are. He has so often quarreled with Carranza and become reconciled, that the judicial observer would not be surprised at any time to see a final breach, once Villa has enjoyed all the advantages possible from Carranza's gift for diplomacy.

The other points, those involving a provisional president and land reforms, are equally troublesome. The type of man Huerta will want for president is wholly different from the type preferred by Villa or Carranza. Whether they can bridge this chasm is a question. The land issue is even more serious. It is the core of all the Mexican trouble, and the views of the constitutionalists and of the Huertistas are miles apart.

These are some of the more discouraging, but truthful, aspects of the situation. The reason for optimism is that there is the probability of the reopening of mediation and the assembling in personal conference of the representatives of the principals to the problem. Once they face each other, it may be that the puzzles that now appear hopelessly intricate may yield to skillful manipulation.

To Stop Tick Eradication Would Cost Ga. Farmers Many Years of Progress

Editor Constitution: I have just learned from the editorial page of today's Constitution of the action of the appropriation committee of the house in leaving off the annual appropriation for tick eradication in Georgia.

It is almost inconceivable that the committee should commit such a blunder at this particular crisis in the state's industrial history. It shows lack of information as to those things indispensable to the welfare not only of rural Georgia, but of Georgia as a whole.

The cessation of this work in Georgia will be but an added invitation to disaster in the advent of the coming boll weevil. Of all the campaigns that are being carried on in preparation for the weevil, there are none more important than that of tick eradication. Indeed, in some respects, it is the most important. For instance, where is the farmer to find an outlet for his increased production of diversified crops save through the use of improved stock, particularly beef and dairy cattle? In the matter of tick eradication, we find to a large extent the key to better farming methods, diversification of crops, financial independence of the southern farmer, to say nothing of decrease of the cost of living to the state at large through the growing of our dairy and beef supplies right here near at home.

What It Means.

With the tick destroyed the center of the beef raising and dairying industries of the country promises shortly to move towards the southeastern states, bringing untold sources of wealth to this section of the country. With the tick destroyed, Georgia may surpass Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, or any of the western states, in the production of beef, and that without decreasing our cotton crop, but rather increasing it. With the tick still here among us, we not only fail in these lines, but invite failure in other lines.

It might be added that when the state fails to make this appropriation she loses twice that amount from other sources, as it is a well known fact that both the federal and the county authorities share the burden of this work with the state wherever the work is undertaken.

It is to be hoped that the committee will reconsider this action and restore this item on the bill of appropriations.

L. W. JARMAN,
Member of Committee on Boll Weevil and Diversification of State Chamber of Commerce.
Porterdale, Ga., July 7, 1914.

This, from the journal of The Pleasant Valley Philosopher, is rather rough on the Missouri poets:

"They were arguing the question of service down at the store the other day when the storekeeper made the assertion that he who gives to the world some new piece of machinery renders more service than he who writes an exquisite poem. 'The vacuum cleaner,' he said, 'has been of more service to us than any poem I might name.' 'Which might be so,' retorted Link Lollop, 'if those vacuum cleaners would only vac, but I've seen a poetess clean out a hall by merely reading one of her poems in half the time it could have been done with a vacuum cleaner.'"

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

ASSAULT ON PARCEL POST BRINGS OUT BARRETT OF FARMERS' UNION

For the first time in a good many years President Charles S. Barrett, of the National Farmers' Union, and closely identified with the organization both nationally and in the state, is figuring in the political developments of the day—not as a candidate, by any means, but as a defender of the parcel post system, which he believes to be involved in the campaign in Georgia.

President Barrett holds a letter from Congressman Hardwick which the latter wrote to President Barrett in reply to a letter in which the president of the Farmers' union urged Congressman Hardwick to support the parcel post measure when it was under consideration in congress.

In Congressman Hardwick's reply he "respectfully declined" to support a general parcel post bill, expressing his willingness only to go to the extent of permitting parcel post deliveries of packages to the routes on which the packages may be mailed. Say, for instance, that a free delivery route starting out from Jonesboro, in Clayton county, went to Rex, in that county. A man living on the Rex route could parcel post with his letter carrier a package to Jonesboro or a Jonesboro merchant could parcel post a package to a patron of the route at Rex. If, however, the man at Rex wished to parcel post a package to Macon or to Atlanta or to Nashville or to anywhere else beyond the terminus of his route of a few miles long, he would be deprived under the Hardwick plan, which, for any point beyond his route, would limit this man's opportunities to the express companies.

"But," says the man at Rex and his rural neighbors, "there is no express company at my office, any more than there is an express office available for 90 out of every 100 farmers in the rural precincts of Georgia."

"Then, kind sir, you must do without the parcel post if you wish to reach any point beyond the short route on which you live."

No wonder, therefore, that President Barrett, of the Farmers' union, who was born a farmer, raised a farmer and is still a farmer, shakes his head when he looks at this little letter, which he carries in his pocket, and which in its way bids fair to become almost as historic as a letter that was written once upon a time by a Georgia railroad commissioner who afterwards became governor.

CANDIDACY OF JUDGE BROYLES IS INDORSED BY ATLANTA BAR

The campaign headquarters of Judge Nash R. Broyles, of Atlanta, candidate for the court of appeals, is sending out by mail what is one of the most remarkable petitions ever prepared in behalf of a candidate for office in Georgia.

It is the indorsement of the Atlanta bar. The petition bears the names of 359 practicing attorneys, all commending Judge Broyles "to the favorable consideration of our brethren of the bar of Georgia and to the people generally of the state."

HALL COUNTY VOTERS CALL ON CANDIDATES FOR PLATFORMS

Gainesville, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—The political situation in Hall county for aspirants to the lower house of the general assembly is getting critical up about Lula, a place out from Gainesville about 12 miles, and the candidates are receiving numerous letters from the voters in that precinct asking that a speech be made by each candidate. The letters say that no candidate will be voted for until he gives out a platform. They want to know just what he stands for, or there is no ballot for him.

This is something new in Hall county politics, especially for candidates for the lower house of the state's law-makers.

HEATED CAMPAIGN IN PROSPECT FOR JUDGESHIP OF ROME CIRCUIT

Rome, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—The entry of Judge Moses Wright into the race for judge of the Rome circuit assures a lively campaign for that office, for which there are now three candidates.

The other two are Judge W. M. Henry, formerly judge of the Rome circuit, and Hon. Wesley Shropshire, of Summerville, in Chattooga county. The circuit is composed of the counties of Floyd, Chattooga and Walker.

Friends of all of the candidates are already busy at work, and a heated campaign is in prospect.

WARM CONTEST FOR LEGISLATURE BEING WAGED IN BUTTS COUNTY

Jackson, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Butts is in the midst of a three-cornered race for representative that promises to be one of the hottest and closest contests of the entire year. C. A. Towles, of Cork, in the lower part of the county, has been a candidate since early spring. Recently N. H. Greer, a well-known farmer and former county commissioner, got in the running. He was followed closely by Dr. R. W. Mays, a wealthy and well-known citizen of Jackson. The latter served in the lower house in 1880-81.

With the primary but little more than a month off interest in this contest is warming up constantly. The friends of the various contestants are making claims and the race bids fair to be a close and exciting one. Another contest in which much interest centers is that for senator from the twenty-sixth district, between Judge H. M. Fletcher and Representative J. H. Mills.

DEKALB COUNTY DELEGATES MUST STICK TO SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES

Decatur, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee of DeKalb county met at the courthouse in Decatur yesterday to set the date for closing entries and fix assessments for the various candidates. August 1, at noon, was decided upon as the time for closing entries, and the candidates were assessed as follows: Congressman, $75; judge and solicitor, $60; representative, $25.

These assessments must be paid in by noon, August 1, and all candidates who fail to qualify by that time will be left off of the ticket.

A resolution was passed by the committee to instruct the delegates to the state convention from DeKalb to cast this county's votes for all those who carry the county for governor, senator and statehouse offices, and to stick to them to the last ditch.

"This rule was made to keep DeKalb county clear of the juggling, vote buying and general rattenness that will probably characterize the state convention, and by which the will of the people may be thwarted," expressed a member of the committee after adjournment.

KNOCKS AND BOOSTS FROM THE STATE PRESS

Looking Good for Anderson.
(From The Darien Gazette.)

The south Georgia candidate's manager says that it now looks as if Mr. Anderson would be the next governor. Manager Osborn generaliy knows what he is talking about.

Toting Their Own Skillets.
(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

Mr. Felder, Mr. Hardwick and Senator Smith are regarded as of the same political school. Governor Brown and Governor Slaton are regarded as of the same school. However, each of them and all of them have stressed it and emphasized it and heralded it that he is "toting his own skillet." It is a fine opportunity for the non-partisan to enjoy a unique situation.

150 Counties Enough.
(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

Barrow county makes 149 counties in Georgia. The program in the legislature is for one more, bringing the number up to 150. That is enough.

Hotter Than He Expected.
(From The Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

Mr. Hardwick finds that the Brunswick stew he mixed into was hotter than he expected.

A Boost for Anderson.
(From The Tifton Gazette.)

It is an undisputed fact that J. Randolph Anderson, the south Georgia candidate, is growing more popular every day. And if that man has said an unkind word about his opponents or any one else why we have never heard it. And it is just silly to say, or even think, that a gubernatorial contest in Georgia cannot be pulled off without more or less abuse. Mr. Anderson is really a bigger man than we thought he was.

No Place to Light.
(From The Greensboro Journal.)

The turtle dove of political peace was turned loose by Editors Loyless and Howell. But the bird couldn't find a place to light.

Gone With the Years.
(From The Lyons Progress.)

What has become of the old fashion Georgia newspaper that used to print straw ballots and declare that its favorite candidate was sweeping the state?

A Persistent Rumor.
(From The Ocilla Star.)

The rumor that Felder will be handed a federal plum and will quit the race for the senate persists. We do not put much faith in the report, but we confess that we would like to see Slaton and Hardwick scrap it out between themselves.

Just for Pastime.
(From The Douglasville Sentinel.)

Some of those senatorial candidates around the country are evidently running just for pastime.

A Startling Revelation.
(From The Cordele Dispatch.)

That was a most wonderful and startling revelation that Mr. Thomas Felder, candidate for the United States senate, let fly from his marvelous intellect recently. The wonderful man said he was against the negro holding office. Great goodness, what white man in Georgia is any other way on this subject? He will tell us next time, possibly, that we are human beings and have souls.

Little Joe's Strength.
(From The Tifton Gazette.)

Mr. Brown has a strong hold on the affections of the mass of the people and has the confidence of many thousands of voters, especially in the rural districts. These have always supported him and will do so again. It is a vote which does not make much noise until election day.

From the Disgruntled.
(From The Commerce Observer.)

Some of Jack Slaton's non-supporters are suffering with the sorehead because the press is largely for him in his race for the senate. They go so far as to say that the press is subsidized because Mr. Slaton realizes the value of publicity and is able and willing to pay for it. Disgruntled folks say some foolish things.

Let the Tax Law Stand.
(From The Savannah News.)

The tax equalization law is one of the topics that is being discussed in the campaign. Some of the candidates seem to think that it is unpopular, and that votes can be made by advocating its repeal. That is a mistaken view. Judging from what the weekly press says of the law the great majority of the tax payers favor it. They realize that prior to this year there was a great inequality in taxation. That there was great inequality is evident from the returns of counties thus far made this year to the comptroller general.

As a rule the people favor what is fair. Thousands and thousands of taxpayers have been placing low valuations on their property—a valuation far below its market value—because it was the custom to do so. They have no objection to a just valuation, provided such valuation is general. Naturally one taxpayer objects to paying taxes on a valuation far above that placed on his neighbor's property and taxpayers of one county object to paying on a higher valuation than those in another county.

There has been very little objection to the increased valuations under the equalization act because the feeling is that valuations are being equalized—that one taxpayer isn't being assessed on a high valuation and another on a low valuation.

And the effort to repeal the law will not succeed as long as this feeling prevails.

Let the law stand and, if necessary to accomplish the end aimed at, amend it. The legislature of Louisiana is endeavoring to enact an equalization law and the same objections are being raised as were raised when the act was passed in this state. The chances are that it will be passed in that state, mainly because it is right that it should be.

An Unusual Compliment to An Atlanta Manufacturer

State Food Inspector P. A. Methvin has paid an unusual compliment to Colonel Harry Schlesinger, an Atlanta manufacturer, with regard to the sanitation of the latter's factory. In the course of a letter in which he refers to a sanitary law the department is framing, he says:

"It is my desire as food inspector of this state to have every food distributing establishment in Georgia meet that high plane of sanitation that your establishment meets."

In view of the fact that scientific sanitation is today one of the first principles in the handling of food products, the significance of Inspector Methvin's verdict is apparent. It is worthy of note, in this connection, that Atlanta factories generally show an appreciating standard of sanitation.

Tax-Dodging a Science.

(From The Buffalo Express.)

Over in England, where they have had an income tax a long time, dodging the tax has been developed into a regular science. If one is not very expert in the science himself, he can hire someone who is to fix up his tax return in such manner that really the government will owe money to the man with the income tax, instead of the latter owing money to the government. These experts are able to evolve the most ingenious exemptions that can be imagined, and their business is said to be extremely profitable.

All of this suggests the possibility of the development of this science in the United States. There will never be wanting men who feel that they are being imposed upon when they are asked to give up any part of their income for the support of the government. There may not be quite so much reason for dodging the income tax in this country and there may not be quite so many possible ways of doing it, but it is a pretty safe guess that there will be some straining of intellects in that direction. Therefore, it is quite probable that it will be possible before long to buy expert advice on this subject.

BROWN ATTACKS LABOR UNIONS

Favors Restriction of Immigration and Opposes Negroes in Office--Announces Keynote of His Platform.

The keynote of former Governor Joseph M. Brown's platform, which was made public Wednesday, is an attack on union labor methods.

He favors restriction of immigration and deprecates the appropriation of public funds to sectarian schools. He vigorously opposes the placing of negroes in public office.

Mr. Brown does not mention his opponent, Hoke Smith.

Lawlessness of Unions.

The platform in full follows:

To the People of Georgia: The strength of the government of a free people lies in the deliberate making and the fearless and impartial enforcement of just laws. Preference for a class and fear of a class by those who make and administer the laws are alike odious to all who hold justice as a basic principle and not the temporary expedient of the opportunist.

In our own state and throughout the United States within the past few years there has come to the front, one organization, within a class, whose practices are here undermining and there openly defying the laws of the state and the general government. This organization is made up of various brotherhoods, orders and associations which are popularly known as trade unions, or labor unions, by which latter title I shall herein designate them.

Labor unionism is a foreign importation into this country; the vast majority of its membership is composed of foreign born people, many of them not even naturalized as American citizens, and the head of the general federation who is himself foreign born, in a speech to his associates, last November, urged them to "Make the immigrants union members as fast as they come in." This, if done, will, of course, still further strengthen this foreign organization in its fight upon American people and American laws.

This federation of organizations does not even pretend to include more than one-third of the labor element of the United States, yet it arrogates to itself the privilege (and claims it as a right) to dominate the status of labor and concurrently to establish class dominance over all the other elements of American citizenship. It has supplanted the process of law with the process of the club, the brickbat, the revolver, the dynamite stick, the torch and the other instruments of anarchy. It "picketS" the public utilities and the industrial establishments upon which it has ordered strikes and by threats of open violence terrorizes those who desire to work. It exercises the power of paralyzing the public utilities to the serious inconvenience and damage of millions of people who have no interest in its quarrels with its employers. It claims the right of its members to quit their employers at will but resists the right of employers to discharge them at will. It is, in fact, a labor trust, which is militantly striving to oust from the arenas wherein it works all rival laborers. When terrorism does not coerce, its monthly record proves that it does not hesitate to use bloodshed to enforce its monopoly.

Anarchistic Practices.

Therefore, inasmuch as the general government exercises mandatory powers over the owners of public utilities, which do interstate business, and enforces those powers with adequate penalties, it should exercise similar powers over the employees of those public utilities, to the end that a stop be put to their anarchistic practices in paralyzing those utilities which the government commands to operate. We cannot allow any organization within the United States to enforce its will over the laws. We cannot tolerate the practice of the labor unions' members in yielding greater allegiance to their union label than they do to the great seal of state.

Hence, if elected by you to the United States senate, I pledge myself to use all endeavors practicable to secure the enactment of a law, or laws, to force the incorporation of the labor unions whose members operate the public utilities on such basis as will protect the public convenience and interest while safeguarding the rights of employers and employees. To this end each officer and employee of a public utility should be required to take oath that he will neither singly nor by combination do any act to impair the power of said utility to perform the public service which the law makes its duty.

And I pledge myself to endeavor to secure the enactment of similar laws to prevent the labor unions from staying the operation of such industrial enterprises as the interest of the general public requires to be operated. In these laws I favor the requirement of compulsory arbitration as the final resort, when all other methods of settlement fail. In this arbitration the rights of non-union labor should be safeguarded, inasmuch as union labor must not be allowed to deny to other labor or to use the law to deny to other labor the same right to live and prosper which the law allows to union labor.

Majority Rule Should Prevail.

It can scarcely be contended by any one not a member of the labor unions or bound to them by ties of interest, that these unions, which include less than one-third of the labor forces of the United States, should control the general status of labor. The majority rule prevails in this country and there is no reason why the labor union minority should have the general rule abrogated for its selfish advantage.

Just here let me say that I neither now pass, nor have I ever passed, any criticism on the rights of laborers to organize for such legitimate purposes as may be pleasing to them. They have as much right to organize as have any other citizens. But they have not the right to use their organization, after it has been effected, to evade or defy the laws, to imperil the lives or property of others or to enforce any part of the process of lawlessness for their selfish benefit. There is a wide difference between organization for lawful purposes and the exercise of lawlessness by or through the agency of their organization. There is a wide difference between such organizations as the Masons, or Knights of Pythias or Farmers' union, etc., and the labor union. None of the three I have named attempt to enforce their will by violence. None of their members refuse to work in the same offices, shops or farms with like workers who are not members of their societies. None of them disregard the rights of all other citizens in such controversies as they engage in. The labor unions stand alone as open lawbreakers. They stand alone as having recently fomented and financed a formidable rebellion against an American state, as having put, to establish preferential privileges for themselves, an army of foreigners into the field and fought battles with the militia the state had sent to uphold her laws and to protect the rights of non-union laborers.

Should Keep the Peace.

The labor unions having arrogated to themselves the open process of anarchy, I therefore regard the enactment of statutes putting them on a level with all other citizens, in the requirements of keeping the peace and not damaging the rights of the public, as being the paramount issue now before the American people. The non-union labor people keep the peace, why should the members of labor unions be allowed to break it?

The members of labor unions are entitled to the cordial good will and cooperation of all good citizens in all lawful deeds they do collectively and their members do singly, on the live and let live policy. It is only when they substitute the process of anarchy for the process of law and attempt to establish class preference that they become liable to public condemnation. They have equal rights with all other citizens, but no superior rights.

Crystallizing, therefore, the entire issue above outlined, the constitution of the United States is broad enough to give impartial protection to the lives and property of all citizens of this republic. If the present statutes do not secure that result, then statutes necessary to that end and to the protection therewith of the interests of the general public should be enacted. The law, not the will of a class, must be our rule of action. And in this day when "progress" has become a political catch word, all good citizens should stand for the renaissance of impartial enforcement of the law. That should be our immovable rock.

I favor greater restrictions on immigration. Too many undesirable foreigners are now entering the United States. I believe a literary test should be applied, and that all failing in this should be debarred.

As to Foreign Element.

It is a lamentable fact that where the foreign element in this republic is strongest we have the paradox of the greatest disregard of the Sabbath and the most insidious attempts to apply public funds to sectarian schools. Reverence for religion should be inculcated and schools should be fostered as the "nurseries of democracy," but there should not be, even indirectly, any steps leading toward a union of church and state. No religious teacher should be given governmental emoluments and authority to enforce his denominational or sectarian discipline over those of other faiths.

As a union of church and state is incompatible with liberty of conscience, so freedom of speech and of the press, safeguarded by the state, is the inherent right of a free people. I am opposed to interference with the individual in such matters by the federal government, just as I am opposed to further interference by that authority with the rights of the states to control their suffrage and sumptuary laws. The states should not surrender any of the rights now reserved for them in the constitution.

I favor legislation which will secure the establishment of rural credits, fashioned, as far as our conditions will allow, to a great extent upon the plan which has wrought such great benefits in some of the countries of Europe. The city man, like the country man, is vitally interested in this proposition, just as the city man and the country man are interested in the impartial enforcement of law.

While I feel kindly to the negroes, yet I oppose the policy of putting them in position as trial judges or in offices where they give orders to white clerks, etc., and would officially urge these views.

As the democratic party in congress, on the plea of protecting the national honor, has recently nullified the plank in its last platform which called for no canal tolls on American coastwise shipping, it certainly, on the basis of protecting racial propriety, can disregard a secret promise made by campaign managers to a class, to the effect that a democratic administration will keep as many negroes in public office as were kept by a republican administration.

As to general matters yet open for legislation, I stand on the last platform adopted by the national democratic party.

ATHENS WOMEN GIVE $1,000 FOR INFIRMARY

Athens, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—The Woman's club of Athens, Mrs. John Z. Hoke, president, last night tendered to Chancellor Barrow of the University of Georgia about $1,000 in cash and $800 in good subscriptions with which to enlarge and improve the now small infirmary on the campus for the use of the students.

The infirmary is known as the "Crawford W. Long Infirmary," in honor of the discoverer of ether anaesthesia, who lived and practiced here for many years and died here suddenly many years ago while waiting on a patient. It is planned to gradually make of the infirmary a creditable mohument to the memory of the physician who is to be one of Georgia's representatives in the hall of fame.

ENGLISH ADMIRAL, BROTHER OF H. M. ASHE, IS KILLED

Rear Admiral Edward Percy Ashe, retired officer of the Royal Navy of Great Britain, brother of H. M. Ashe, of Atlanta, is dead in England as the result of a motorcycle accident.

Mr. Ashe received this news in Atlanta Wednesday through a special cable published in the New York Herald. Further than this he has heard no news.

EDWARD PERCY ASHE,
From a photograph taken fifteen years ago, when he was a captain in the English navy.

The Herald dispatch states only that Admiral Percy died Sunday as a result of injuries received in a collision between a motorcycle which he was riding and an automobile.

Admiral Ashe was born in Quebec, Canada, and was 62 years old at the time of his death. At the age of 13 years he entered the Royal naval academy, in England. He had been in the service of the Royal navy ever since and had gradually earned his promotion to the high office which he held at the time of his retirement some four years ago.

In 1900, he married Susan, daughter of the late Dr. Daniel Giles, of Boston, Mass.

Mr. Ashe, of Atlanta, was but two years old when his brother left for England, and has not since seen him. Admiral Ashe returned but once to his Canadian home, and that was ten years ago, at which time Mr. Ashe was in Atlanta.

Two sisters were visiting the admiral at the time of his death.

TAX RETURNS IN BIBB TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

Increase of Between Four and Five Million Dollars Is Expected.

Macon, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—When Tax Receiver Anderson, of Bibb county, completes his tax digest for the present year it is expected to show an increase of between four and five million dollars over last year, breaking all previous records for increases in any single year.

The remarkable showing will be due in a measure to the diligence of Receiver Anderson and to the new board of tax equalizers, Messrs. Cabiness, Hollingsworth and Bailey. The equalizers have completed their work of appraising property and are now hearing protests against the values placed on property. However, most of the kicks come from the country districts, there being little room for the city tax payers to object, inasmuch as the county board has to a large extent followed the books of the city assessors. City assessments were raised a couple of million dollars this year. Last year the assessments for Bibb county totaled $31,600,000.

One of the causes for the big increase this year is the fact that the board of equalizers is for the first time in the history of the county assessing mortgages.

MARRIAGE LAWS SCORED BY JUDGE GEORGE BELL

Upon discharging a jury that had considered ninety-five divorce cases within the past three days, Judge George L. Bell Wednesday scored the laxity of marriage laws, and declared that the legislature should pass stricter laws for a remedy of the divorce evil. He branded as "unbearable" present divorce conditions, and suggested publication of marriage bans.

"A bill was introduced in the legislature to require the publication of marriage bans several weeks before the marriage," he said from the bench, "and I think, if passed, this law would greatly relieve the situation. Persons ought not to be ashamed of matrimony, and the world should know their intentions, so, if there is any moral or physical objection, it can be voiced in proper time.

"Under the existing laws the ordinary of the county is endowed with no discretion. License are issues to anyone, and marriages are performed on the jump without question."

FOUR BUY PROPERTY OF YOUNG'S COLLEGE

Thomasville, Ga., July 8.—(Special.) The property of Young's college was sold here yesterday at sheriff's sale for $8,700, being sold to satisfy a judgment against it held for several years by Mrs. M. Wade. The property was purchased by a company composed of W. A. Pringle, J. H. Merrill, Lee Neel and Pierce Harley. No statement has been given out as for what purpose this property will be used but as the purchasers are all well-known business men of Thomasville, it was doubtless considered a good investment. The property comprises two blocks fronting on Dawson street in one of the principal residence sections of the city and the ground is quite valuable, the only drawback being that the buildings on it were erected for school purposes and could hardly be utilized for dwellings. There is some rumor that it may be developed into a resort hotel, the location being admirably adapted for the purpose.

THREE LARGE ESTATES BEFORE CLARKE COURT

Athens, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Three of the largest estates in the state were before the court of ordinary this morning in Clarke county. A year's support was set aside for the widow of the late T. P. Vincent, vice president of the Georgia National bank and president of the Athens Manufacturing company; the will of Allen H. Talmage was probated, the instrument leaving forty-three houses, business places and farms, besides other property, to his wife; and the will of the late Stephen Upson was probated, most of this estate being in New York Broadway business realty and wharf property in and near New York and valued at more than any estate owned in this part of the south.

STATE INSTITUTIONS ASK FOR MORE MONEY

State Normal at Athens and Georgia Tech Plead for Additional Appropriations.

For over two hours Wednesday the house committee on appropriations listened to the pleas of trustees and officials of the Georgia State Normal, at Athens, and the Tech for additional appropriations, but no action was taken on any of the bills which have been introduced for the relief of these institutions. Further hearings will be had today.

Hon. B. S. Miller, of Columbus, chairman of the board of trustees of the State Normal school; President Jere Pound, Chancellor Barrow of the State university, Captain Barnett, city engineer of Athens, and others, spoke in behalf of the State Normal.

Two measures have been introduced in the house providing for additional funds for this institution. One gives an additional $5,000 to the maintenance fund and the other provides $15,000 for badly-needed repairs.

Professor Pound gave an interesting account of the work being done by the school. Of the 10,905 who have graduated, he said 90 per cent were now teaching school; that the school could not supply the demands made on it for teachers. The buildings of the school, which represented an outlay of $500,000, were in a delapidated condition and badly in need of repair. During fifteen years he stated that the state had not appropriated one cent of money to repair these buildings. The institution was growing rapidly and the additional $5,000 for maintenance was absolutely necessary, he said.

President Matheson, of the Tech, asked that $10,000 be added to the maintenance fund of $80,000, which the institution receives annually. He explained that the city of Atlanta was now raising funds to house the $100,000 equipment which had been donated by various manufacturers of the north.

Prior to the meeting of the appropriations committee the state sanitarium committee met and adopted a resolution urging that the former committee pass the bill appropriating $66,200 supplemental for 1914, and $46,866 for 1915. These sums, explained Representative Ennis, were absolutely essential. The increased cost of meat alone had increased the yearly expense of the institution $9,000; $17,000 for repairs to the laundry, and $17,500 for the erection of new wings to the main building.

That no pension shall exceed $50 a month.

That no one with an income of $500 or over aside from his salary shall be entitled to a pension.

ATLANTA IS COOLED BY THUNDER SHOWER

It Will Be Fair This Morning, But Afternoon May Bring Another Shower.

Atlanta was visited by a fitful rain, wind and thunderstorm late Wednesday afternoon, which left the atmosphere decidedly refreshed.

The shower began about 5 o'clock and continued until night had fallen. It was accompanied by a wind of high velocity and vivid lightning. The rain fell spasmodically—now in torrents, then in a drenching drizzle. It continued for about an hour.

The weather for today, it is predicted, will be fair during the morning with agreeable temperature, and the prospects for another shower during the late afternoon.

GEORGIA PAYS $500,000 UNDER INCOME TAX LAW

Georgia will contribute some $500,000 to the federal government under the provisions of the new income tax law, according to figures now available in the local revenue office.

Although belated taxpayers have well nigh swamped the office since July 10 was set as the final date for payment of the income tax, there are some 250 individuals behind in their statements.

KEEPS WEDDING SECRET TO CARE FOR SISTERS

Madras, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—News has just leaked out of the secret marriage Sunday afternoon of Miss Irene Lang and Brady Sprayberry and the young couple are receiving the hearty congratulations of their many friends. After the two were made one by a justice of the peace, they attended church services and then the bride was left at her father's house. The wedding was not announced as the young lady desired to stay at home for a time and fill the place of her mother, now dead, in caring for her little brothers and sisters.

BILLIKENS COME FOR FIVE GAMES

Open With Double-Header Today — Thompson and Collier Will Pitch—Play Starts 2 O'Clock.

Bobby Gilks and his tail-end Montgomery Billikens will arrive in Atlanta this morning to open up a five-game series with the Crackers, double-headers to be staged this afternoon and on Saturday afternoon.

Today's double-header will start at 2 o'clock. So will the one on Saturday. The single game, Friday, which is Ladies' day, will start promptly at 3:45 o'clock.

This five-game series with the Billikens will close the Crackers' home-stay, the team leaving for seventeen games on the road, starting with the game in Birmingham Monday.

The Billikens are playing a better brand of baseball now, and are making every team that they play travel at their fastest clip to defeat them. Their series with Memphis and Chattanooga indicates that the Crackers are going to have to fight hard to win every game.

Season's Record.

The Crackers and the Billies have engaged in eight games to date. The locals have won five, the Billies two, and one game resulted in a tie.

In those games, the Crackers tallied 37 runs to 32 for the Billies, made 64 hits to 71 for the Billies and 18 errors to 23 for the Billies.

Dent has won both games he has twirled against them. Williams and Doscher have won one each. Perryman has won one and tied one, and Efird and Price (released) lost one each.

Case and Buscher won and lost a game each to the Crackers. Black has lost one and tied one, and East and Lively have lost one each.

Here is the probable batting order today:

BARONS WILL TRAIN IN FLORIDA IN 1915

Birmingham, Ala., July 8.—(Special.)—Birmingham proposes to introduce a new wrinkle. Owner Woodward, the millionaire mogul, intends to train his club in Orlando, Fla., next season. If the Barons journey to Florida they will be the first Southern league team to train on foreign fields. The movement was agitated by Woodward's desire for the Barons to get a flying start over the other seven clubs.

A sudden whim struck the Birmingham mogul on July 3. He decided to set a precedent by installing electric fans for the grandstand patrons. A deal was immediately closed for sixteen ceiling fans, and, by all night work, were installed before the morning game on the Fourth. In the same grandstand, baseball's only band gives daily concerts. The fans wonder what will happen next in the way of innovations.

Crackers Win First Game, Rally and Tie the Second; Storm Cuts Into Matinee

By Dick Jemison.

The Crackers won the first game from the Mobile Gulls, 3 to 0, and tied the second game of the double-header, 4 to 4, giving them two victories and two ties with the Gulls in four games played in the series.

These tie games will be played off the next trip of the Gulls to Atlanta, which is September 7, 8, 9. As the first named date is Labor day and two games are already scheduled for that date, there will be a double-header every day.

As the Pelicans follow the Gulls here and double-headers are scheduled with them for every day, the Crackers will have a week of double-headers, twelve games in six days.

Until the Gulls scored in the sixth inning, they had not been able to score a run in thirty-two consecutive innings. They scored in the fourth inning of the first game of the series, which went thirteen innings.

Then Williams blanked them for nine innings, Browning for nine and Dent for nine and Perryman for five, before they scored. In the thirty-eight innings played in the four games on the local lot, the Gulls scored in the fourth inning of the first game, one run and the sixth inning of the fourth game four runs.

First Game.

Elliott Dent had the Gulls on his hip throughout the first game handing them another coat of white, while his teammates made three runs off of Roberston.

Dent's return to effectiveness is welcomed. The big fellow is apparently started on another winning streak, such as he always starts every year after July 1.

Six blows were all the Gulls were able to garner off his delivery and two of those were of a doubtful quantity.

Robertson only allowed seven blows, but the Crackers bunched five of the seven in two innings, the fifth and sixth for their three runs.

Sparkling stops by Jennings and McConnell were the fielding features. The hitting was so light that there were no particular features from this standpoint except Holland's pinch blow in the sixth.

How They Scored.

The Crackers scored one in the fifth. With one gone, Eibel laced a slow one to right for a single and when Hogg booted, he went to third. Jennings walked; Tyree dropped a Texas leaguer back of second, scoring Eibel.

They added two more in the sixth. Kircher hit the third sack with a line drive for a blow. Long beat out his bunt and when Hudnall threw low to first, Kircher went to third and Long to second. Holland scored them both, with a smash between Dobard and Hudnall.

The Second Game.

Perryman and Gudger were selected for hurling duties by the rival managers in the second game and for five innings the two hurlers were working shut-out ball.

For five innings the Crackers were not only unable to get a hit off of Gudger, but they had failed to get a man to first base. He weakened in the sixth and seventh innings, when the Crackers bunched their six hits for four runs. Had the game gone the whole route, the Crackers would undoubtedly have won it.

Perryman, had he received better support, would have won his game. Every one of the Gulls' runs were the result of errors, Holland making one and Long two in the sixth inning.

But the encouraging feature of it is that the errors did not spell defeat. It cost a victory, as we were only able to finally get a tie, but they were not as fatal as they have been in the past.

Nice plays by Hudnall at third for the Gulls kept the Crackers from scoring more runs than they did. He cut off a hit on each of his three sparkling stops.

How They Scored.

The Gulls got a four-run lead in the sixth and after two men had been retired.

Perry hit the third bag with a hard drive. The ball bounced into Holland's hands. Harry made a low throw to first and Perry went to third.

Kirby singled to center, scoring Perry. Northern singled to left and when Long let the ball get by, Kirby scored and Northern went to third. Schmidt singled to left, scoring Northern and when Long let the ball get through Schmidt also came home.

The Crackers had a great opportunity in their half, but were only able to get two of the needed four runs to tie.

Jennings opened the inning with a single to right. Dunn singled to center. Perryman laid down a beautiful bunt and beat the throw to first for a hit, filling the bases.

McConnell flied to Kirby, but Jennings did not try to score. Kircher kicked in with a safe hit to left, scoring Jennings and Dunn.

Perryman and Kircher advanced to third and second respectively on a wild pitch. Then, with the count 3 and 2 on Long, Chestnutt called a questionable third strike.

Welchonce was walked purposely, filling the bases. This move not only kept a dangerous batter from hitting safely in the pinch, but it also made the force play that followed possible.

Holland hit between Dobard and Hudnall. The latter made a nice pick-up and forced Welchonce at second. He could make no play with success at any other base.

The Crackers came back and tied the fray up in their half of the seventh. Eibel worked Gudger for a free ticket. Jennings shot a single to center, sending Eibel to second. Joe Dunn laid down a neat sacrifice, advancing both runners a bag.

Then Tyree was elected to hit for Perryman. The chubby catcher got one to his liking and poled it to center for a cushion, scoring both runs and tying up the game. Tyree took second on the throw to the plate, but McConnell fanned and Kircher grounded out and the game was called on account of darkness and the approaching storm.

Not a man on either side reached third until the ninth inning. Rome made their score on a base on balls, two sacrifice hits and a single. Anniston put three men on bases in their half of the ninth, but failed to score. While the bases were full Tisdale hit a ball down the third base line, which the Anniston players and fans thought Strangfield knocked foul with his hand, but the umpire would not let the runs count that would have won the game. The features of the game were the fielding of Reidy, Abbott and Tisdale and the work of the two pitchers.

Bunched hits and an error gave Memphis another in the seventh. For Birmingham, Covington drove the ball over the right field fence in the second and Dunckel's wild throw let Ellam in with the other run in the eighth.

Bisland Day at Ponce de Leon Saturday; Naps Turn Shortstop Over to Crackers; Jennings to Bench; Flanagan Gets Can

The glad tidings have arrived.

At 12:35 o'clock yesterday noon, President Frank E. Callaway, of the local baseball club, received the following telegram from Manager Joe Birmingham, of the Cleveland Naps:

"Have released Shortstop Bisland to you. He leaves here Friday for Atlanta."

Bisland will be here Saturday, in time to participate in the double-header on that date, and in honor of his return the management will make it "Bisland day" at the park.

That a great crowd will be on hand to welcome the local favorite back at his old stamping grounds is certain. No more popular player ever wore an Atlanta uniform than Bizzy.

Bizzy may be here sooner than Saturday. Immediately upon receipt of the telegram from Cleveland, President Callaway wired Bisland personally to come on at once, sending the wire to New York, where the Naps are now playing.

Bizzy will hardly reply to that wire, but will catch the first rattler for Atlanta, as he has wanted to come back here, stating that he would rather play regularly in Atlanta than half the time with any big league club.

Team Changes.

Changes will have to be made in the team to make room for Bisland. Manager Smith has not announced the changes, and will not until Bisland gets here.

But, looking at the situation as it now stands, the following is all that can be done:

Harry Holland is playing too good a game at the hot corner and hitting too well to take him out of the line-up.

Bisland is sure to go to his old place at short, and, working with Amby McConnell at the keystone, the Crackers will have the best pair in the league, and the double plays that have not been very regular to date are sure to pile up with Bizzy in harness.

Morley Jennings will go to the bench and take a rest for a few days. Morley has been getting all the bad breaks in fielding, and his hitting has suffered a little from the discouragement that his poor fielding has occasioned, although Manager Smith and the team have boosted him all the time.

With a little rest, Morley should resume his former stride, and if anyone slips, Morley will then be ready to jump in and hold down any of the infield positions.

Steamer Flanagan, the quiet, unassuming outfielder, is the man that will draw the pink slip, no doubt. Steamer will make some team a good man, and it is doubtful if he is waived on.

Mobile could use a man of Flanagan's ability very handily. So could Montgomery, and even Chattanooga. It is doubtful if these three teams will waive on the big outfielder.

Will Add Strength.

Bisland's return to the team will add strength in more ways than one. It will give the Crackers a better fielder at short, and a better hitter. Incidentally, it will add a pinch hitter to the line-up, a man who showed last season that he could bust up ball game after ball game with safe hits.

Then, too, Bisland's fighting spirit will be a valuable asset to the team. He is so full of pepper that everyone around him exudes it as well.

Harry Holland, playing great ball as he is now, will play even better with Bisland's cheering voice telling him what to do all the time.

Just where Bisland will be batted is hard to say at this writing, but the chances are that Manager Smith will place him in second place, as he is not only a good sacrificer, but a good hit-and-run man as well.

We welcome Bisland's return to the team. And his return will make the Crackers that much more formidable for the coming road trip.

SCOUTS ARE AFTER CORDELE'S SLUGGER

Cordele, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Big league scouts have their eyes on Bankston, Cordele's right fielder and sub-catcher, who has become known over the Georgia State league and over a good portion of the baseball world in this section of the country as "Home Run" Bankston.

Since the opening of the Georgia State league this season this youngster, who is yet only 19, has twenty home runs to his credit and a good number of two and three-baggers marked up to him. He is a most natural hitter and a perfect fiend at clouting the ball for home runs over the right field fence, batting left handed.

While Manager Reagan, of the Cordele club, declines to give out any definite information, it is known that he has been made an offer of $2,500 for Bankston, but is holding out for an amount largely exceeding this. Within the past three weeks there have been four scouts looking Bankston over.

BEHR AND PELL WIN DAVIS CUP TRIALS

New York, July 8.—The doubles part of test matches for the selection of the Davis cup team were finished with a victory for Karl H. Behr and T. R. Pell today at the Westchester Country club. In the final round Behr, the former internationalist, and Pell beat Dean Mathey and G. M. Church, 6-4, 6-2.

In the semi-final round Behr and Pell beat N. W. Niles and A. S. Dabney, the Massachusetts pair, 6-2, 6-4, and Mathey and Church beat R. Norris Williams and R. Lindley Murray, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

William A. Larned, the famous exnational champion, and G. F. Touchard won matches in the start of the singles. Larned beat G. L. Wrenn 6-1, 6-2; and Touchard beat W. M. Washburn, Harvard, 6-4, 7-5.

Players Should Enter City Tournament Now; Only Two Days Left

Only three more days are left for the various players in the city who desire to enter the coming amateur tennis tournament at Piedmont park next week, and the ones that wish to enter should do so at once.

The events to be played include men's singles and doubles, junior singles and doubles (for players under 18 years of age), consolation singles and mixed doubles.

As this is the first tournament of its kind ever attempted in Atlanta, the tennis committee of the Atlanta Amateur federation is very anxious to make it a success, and the only way in which to do this is to have as large an entry list as is possible.

To date, about thirty players have entered the singles, and about twenty teams in the doubles. Also, some have entered the junior singles.

The committee is putting up very handsome cups for the winners, and, as the entry fee is only 15 cents in each event, and as the winners of the first matches will be given the balls which they play their match with, the cost is comparatively nothing to an entry.

Whether or not several other tournaments are held during this year, and also in the future years, depends largely upon the success with which this one meets, and it is entirely up to the players whether or not this tournament is a success or not.

Entries will be received until Saturday night, at 119 Peachtree street.

COTTON RECOVERED MOST OF ITS LOSS

During the Early Session Prices Entered New Low Ground, But Rallied Later in the Day.

New York, July 8.—After making new low ground for the movement during today's early trading, the cotton market recovered most of the loss, owing to the failure of detailed weather reports to show any important precipitation in the southwest. Demand did not become active or general, but offerings were comparatively light during the afternoon and the market closed steady at a net loss of only 1 to 5 points.

Easy Liverpool cables, reports of scattering showers in Texas and the pessimistic view of the cotton goods trade situation seemed to be responsible for the early selling movement.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 points on old crop and of 2 to 4 points on new crop positions, with the near months, probably influenced by the sharp break and comparatively small volume of business in the English spot market. Houses with Liverpool connections were buyers of December and January contracts here during early trading, but this was supposed to be for the purpose of undoing old straddles rather than for fresh trade account and after some irregularity the market sold about 10 to 15 points net lower, with the more favorable view of probable Texas weather conditions encouraged by the official forecast for partly cloudy or unsettled weather in Texas with showers in the Pan Handle.

The failure of later reports to indicate any important precipitation in the southwest and the high temperatures shown in the Houston district chacked the selling movement, however, and prices rallied some 8 to 10 points from the lowest on covering and scattered buying for a reaction.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 8.—After displaying easiness in the morning session and a fall of 9 to 11 points, the cotton market steadied up after the noon hour and recovered nearly all of its loss, closing at a decline of only 2 to 3 points on the new crop months. Buying late in the day was chiefly for the account of shorts who wanted their profits. This demand was met by only slender offerings. Bulls claimed that the market was sold out and oversold.

The morning session saw a lower market on the unsatisfactory exports of cloths from England and fairly favorable weather and crop reports from the belt. Small exports abroad served to call attention anew to the short time talk among Lancashire mills.

A few sections of the belt complained of the lack of moisture but these complaints stimulated only small buying.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, July 8.—During the first hour today prices here ruled a decline of about 10 points under yesterday's close, due to reports of rain in different parts of Texas, with the weather elsewhere in the belt favorable to the crop. The appearance of moisture in the southwest was followed by selling. These offerings were taken principally by local spot interests and Liverpool, and after their absorption, the market improved when the official detailed reports from Texas showed that only a few places in the northern section of the state had received rain of any consequence. The trade is following weather conditions very closely and they are the mainspring price movements at present. Crop reports generally are without complaint except for the need of rain in Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee. However, the dry weather there is not causing uneasiness as yet and consequently buyers are holding off hoping for a still more favorable basis.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, July 8.—At one time today the market seemed to be on the eve of a sharp decline, but again it rallied. There were reports of rains in Texas this morning, but they were not widespread enough or heavy enough to have much influence. The south continues to sell, but there was good buying today by spot interests. The foreigner is talking hard times and curtailment and buying cotton on all soft spots while he talks. It is not possible to get bullish with such wonderful prospects in the eastern belt, but cotton has a value in proportion to the demand, and the world certainly wants a big crop this year. The market closed steady with new crop months down 1 to 4 points. Coffee eased off 4 points in a dull market.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 8.—Owing to fears of curtailment in Manchester the Liverpool market was sharply lower this morning, particularly the near positions. Our market opened lower, in response to the cables, meeting further southern hedge selling and liquidation, which brought prices almost to the 12-cent level. The feeling among the local trade is more bearish than for some time, as they feel that the crop has been steadily improving and that the rain in Arkansas last night has gone far to relieve the drouth in that state, leaving only Texas and Oklahoma at this level on the declines, and we are inclined to be of the opinion that the market should be bought against forward requirements on a further decline. Of course, general rains in Texas would, to some extent, modify this view, but as yet we do not think that state has been thoroughly relieved.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 8.—The primary dry goods markets were quiet today, following the announcement yesterday by the receivers for the H. B. Claflin company that a peremptory sale of merchandise would begin July 13.

Sugar.

New York, July 8.—Raw sugar steady; molasses sugar, 2.61@2.67; centrifugal, 3.26@3.32. Refined stetady.

FIGURES TOO LATE FOR WHEAT MARKET

But the Belief That They Would Be Bearish Acted as a Weight During the Day.

Chicago, July 8.—The government crop report, which came today after trading in wheat was at an end, turned out even more adverse to the bulls than had been expected, although belief that it would be bearish acted as a weight all day. Closing prices were heavy ⅜ to ½c under last night. Corn finished ¼ to ½@⅝c net higher. Oats ⅛c off to ⅜c up, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 12½c.

Wheat speculators in general were five million bushels too low in their guesses regarding the government estimate of the total yield. Uncertainty, however, caused both sides to play a waiting game. Reduction in bids from Europe led to some discouragement on the part of wheat owners.

Government figures on the probable yield of corn were materially under what had been the general trade estimate. Bulls, however, were active buyers, influenced partly through the arrival of Argentine shipments out of condition and partly through advices of irreparable damage from drought and heat in Oklahoma. Shipping demand was improved.

Bears in oats anticipated the tenor of the government report, but were handicapped by the strength of corn.

Provisions hardened because of higher prices for hogs.

New York, July 8.—Dan Talmage & Co. say that the market for the past week has been devoid of interest, the intervening national holiday causing slow movement. Besides this, the improved demand has fallen back slightly and can only be classed as fair. It was anticipated that the apparent start towards activity which prevailed during the past month would hold, but the trade have seemingly come into the market merely to cover positive requirements, or, at least, for the time being. Prices, however, on all styles and grades continue to rule firm and there appears sufficient demand to sustain values. Japan still holds the vantage ground as being the best purchase and there appears a trifle more inquiry for that style. Foreign continues in very light demand and receipts have run lower than any week for the past six months. It is again reported that shipments are held at the primary points in effort to cancel unclosed contracts by agreement of sale.

Advices from the south along the Atlantic coast report slow movement. At New Orleans the output holds up to former reports and prices are strong. In the interim, southwest Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas reports concerning the new crop are most encouraging. The stand is fine and the conditions most favorable. It is now further reported that the acreage is likely to approximate last year after all, with a bumper yield in prospect, larger than ever before in the history of the production in this country.

Coffee.

New York, July 8.—After opening at a decline of 1 to 3 points, the coffee market sold about 5 to 7 points net lower under scattered offerings, which were probably promoted by easier European cables and the continued absence of any important demand from either speculative or trade sources. There was no aggressive pressure, however, and prices steadied 2 or 3 points on covering, with the close showing a net loss of from 3 to 7 point. Sales, 33,000.

SELLING OF GOULD FEATURE IN STOCKS

Issues of That System Recorded Declines—The Usual Leaders Made Good Gains.

New York, July 8.—Persistent selling of the various securities which represent the Gould system of railroads at heavy recession was the outstanding feature of today's stock market. Missouri Pacific issues, including the stock and 4 per cent collateral and 5 per cent convertible bonds, fell to the lowest quotations reported in many years, some selling at absolutely lowest records. The movement soon spread to Denver and Rio Grande railroad, and Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway issues, and late embraced other cheap transportation stocks. Incidentally, Rock Island collateral bonds sold at a new low record.

The usual market leaders were plainly inclined to break away from the spell cast upon the market by the depression in other quarters. Such stocks as Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and American Smelter, were in demand at substantial gains, while others in that class reflected a firm undertone.

London's markets were disposed to dioop, that center showing no outward interest in the success of the French loan. The Bank of England got virtually all the gold from South Africa in the absence of any competition. The Paris Bourse was heavy, but Berlin's market was firm.

Bonds in general developed an easier tendency, owing to the weakness of the Gould issues. Total sales, par value, $1,850,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CONDITION OF GRAIN GIVEN BY GOVERNMENT

Washington, July 8.—Thirty million bushels of wheat were added to the prospects of the crop during June by the excellent weather conditions, making the forecast for production, as announced today by the department of agriculture, 930,000,000 bushels, a new record.

The acreage planted to corn this year was only slightly less than that of last year, while the condition of that crop was one per cent better than the ten-year July 1 average, making the prospects good for a crop estimated by the department of agriculture at 2,868,000,000 bushels. That would be better than the average for the last five years.

A 200,000,000-pound decrease in the tobacco crop is indicated, a total crop of 733,000,000 pounds being estimated.

Details of the acreage, condition on July 1, indicated acre yield and total production, interpreted from condition reports, of the various corps, follow:

CAMPAIGN FOR TECH NEARS CONCLUSION

Over Two-Thirds of Necessary Fund for Atlanta's Share Already Raised.

With the whole weight of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce behind the movement in Atlanta for Greater Tech and with nearly sixty volunteer committees from that body, composed of the most prominent business men of Atlanta, hard at work for subscriptions for the remaining third of the one hundred thousand dollar fund to be raised, the end of the campaign is definitely in sight, and the friends of Tech are confident that the announcement may be made Sunday that the fund has been completed.

The committees from the chamber of commerce started to work in earnest yesterday morning, and have plunged into the midst of the fight. In the meanwhile, the original workers in the campaign have redoubled their efforts, and subscriptions have begun to pour into the headquarters.

The fund will be completed by the end of the week, according to the belief of the workers, who are bending their efforts to that end.

The luncheon meetings at the Piedmont hotel will be continued until the end of the week, and the progress of the workers will be reported at these meetings, which will continue to be the center of the campaign.

The committees from the chamber of commerce volunteered to enter actively into the campaign, and themselves chose their leaders, and their working teammates.

The following resolutions have been passed by the chamber of commerce, as an indication of the formal approval of that body of the undertaking for a Greater Tech:

Whereas, The executive committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is impressed with the importance of securing the proposed power station for the Georgia School of Technology with the magnificent mechanical equipment that has been so generously tendered the school, through the efforts of Dr. K. G. Matheson, by leading manufacturers of the country, therefore be it

Resolved, That we assure Dr. Matheson of our hearty co-operation in his efforts to secure the necessary funds to erect the building.

YOUTH ARRESTED HERE ON SEDUCTION CHARGE

Lon Segers, 19 years old, of 6 Warren place, will this morning be carried back to Culman City, Ala., on a warrant charging seduction of Miss Addie Haynes, a pretty 17-year-old school teacher, at Hollypond, eighteen miles from Culman, in January, 1912.

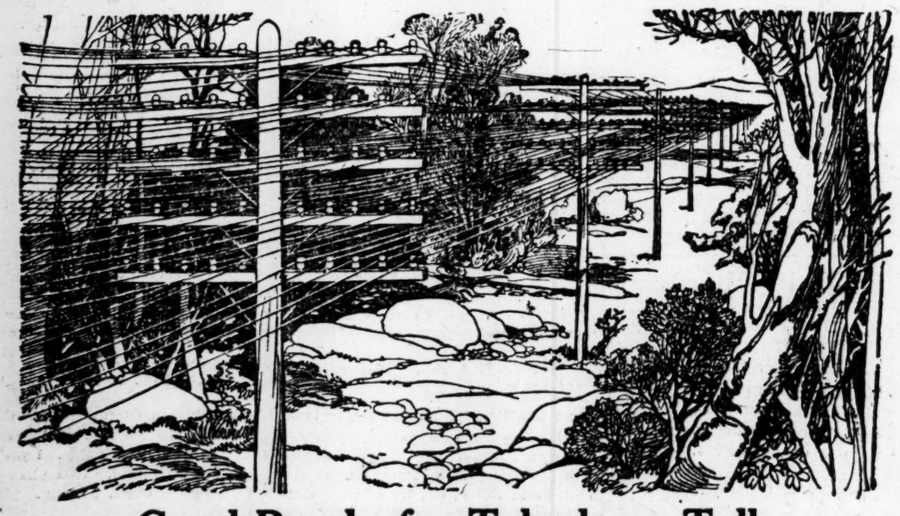

Deputy Sheriff D. A. McClain, of Culman, reached Atlanta last night to take charge of the youth, whom he states has been a fugitive from justice since he was let out on bond.

The deputy states that the young school teacher now has a pretty little baby girl.

He charges that Segers, who has been in the employ of the Home Art Supply company, of Atlanta, secured a marriage license in January, 1912, promising to marry the girl. He states that the crime took place the day of the granting of the marriage license, and that Segers then skipped town, was later arrested, and when released on bond, skipped again.

Segers admits promising to marry the girl and also admits the charge of seducing her, but denies that he ever purchased a marriage license.

He was taken in custody here by Officers Armstead and Ford on a warrant from Culman issued June 17, 1914.

Good Roads for Telephone Talk

THE good roads movement has not been confined to the highways.

The Bell Telephone system has covered the country with "good roads" for telephone talk, reaching every nook and corner.

There are more than 12,000,000 miles of these "good roads" in the Bell system. Some of them are strung in single pairs or in aerial cables from pole to pole; others are hidden away in underground conduits; they reach the heart of each industrial and commercial center of the nation and to the most remote habitations.

These "good telephone roads" of the Bell system, all operated by one system, under one policy, forming one continuous system of intercommunication, connect more than 7,500,000 telephones for universal service.

Georgia Women Are Interested In Many Bills, Says Mrs. Lamar

"It is rather embarassing to observe that many men, especially our representatives in the legislature, seem to think that all women for the present are interested in nothing but the subject of suffrage—either for it or against it, while in reality, in the minds of many of us that is the least important of all the bills in which many of us are interested," said Mrs. W. D. Lamar, of Macon, yesterday, when asked about the action of the committee of the house relative to the suffrage question Tuesday afternoon.

"For instance, the distinct purpose of my visit to Atlanta yesterday and today was to work for the passage of the bill which the club women of Georgia have pushed for two years, asking for an appropriation to build infirmaries in our state educational institutions which have them not," continued Mrs. Lamar. Miss Mildred Rutherford was deeply interested in that same bill, as well as in the suffrage matter.

Her Views.

Miss Caroline Patterson is the president of the Georgia Association Opposing Woman's Suffrage. She has her own opinion about the action of the committee the other day. "As far as I am concerned, I am delighted with the vote of the committee which referred the proposed amendment to the house with recommendation that it do not pass. The attitude of the eight members of the committee was a compliment to two sets of ladies and showed that by dividing evenly the men were gallantly caring for and showing due attention to both opinions. The vote of the chairman tipped the scale and relieved all parties concerned. All power to the chairman and to the small representation (a bare quorum) as well."

Miss Patterson's Statement.

Miss Caroline Patterson declined to be interviewed during her visit to the city, but gave for publication a statement which she stated clearly explains the policy of the Woman's Equal Suffrage association, as follows:

"The Georgia Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage protests against the favorable consideration by the legislature of a constitutional amendment granting suffrage to the women of the state.

"We wish to draw your attention to the fact that the great majority of Georgia women are firmly opposed to any such amendment, believing that the disadvantage of political life for women far outweighs any advantage that has ever been gained by such increase of the electorate.

"This association is convinced that the importance of non-political women to the state is greater than ever before, and that they cannot do your work and their own. They are needed not only for the highest of all vocations—wife and mother—but for their disinterested work in charitable, civic, educational and other activities. The people are beginning to see plainly that it is best to keep these matters 'out of politics,' but that it can never be done if all women are put 'into politics.'

"It is far easier to make good laws than to make good citizens. Do your own duty—but do not confine our interests within party lines, nor waste our energies in political warfare."

SEX FILM AT GRAND IS GIVEN THE O. K. BY LOCAL CENSORS

With the coming to the Grand today of a sensational white slave drama, the Carnegie library board which has charge of moving picture censorship, was called upon to review the picture. Its secretary was kept busy all day assuring Atlantans that "The House of Bondage" had been passed by the local censors.

"The House of Bondage" is a film dramatization of the novel by Reginald Wright Kauffman. Its plot revolves around an innocent country girl lured by promise of marriage into a house of bondage in New York, and her various trials and tribulations are shown in six reels of sex drama. The novel was a widely read one, and it was because of its popularity that the secretary of the censor board spent such a busy day Wednesday.

Upon reaching his office in the library in the morning, Secretary J. W. Peacock found a number of letters informing him that "The House of Bondage" was booked to appear at the Grand theater, and asking whether or not the censors had approved of it.

And letters concerning the sex drama were not the only communications that made the day a busy one. Mr. Peacock answered numerous telephone calls inquiring if the "House of Bondage" had been reviewed by the censors, and asking whether or not it was deemed a proper picture to attend. In each case, the secretary replied that he had reviewed the photo-play and that he was of the opinion that it taught a moral.

As a result, Manager Harry B. Hearn, of the Grand, has extended an invitation to the mayor, Chief of Police Beavers and other city officials and to the clergy of Atlanta to review the picture. Since its appearance on the screen it has had many tribulations. In a Kansas City court Judge Charles H. Clarke stamped the picture a "burning lesson to mothers," and, in dismissing the charges against the management of the theater in which it was being offered, said the city welfare board "should hire a hall and show it free."

FRANCE APPROPRIATES FOR CANAL EXPOSITION

Paris, July 8.—Some members of the chamber of deputies, which today passed an appropriation bill to cover expenses of French official representation at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, strongly opposed the measure because of the alleged mistreatment of French commerce by American customs.

Leon Betoulle, socialist deputy from Limoges, favored the appropriation, but said he regretted the difficulties placed in the way of imports into the United States by customs authorities and notably at their treatment of Limoges porcelains.

Vice Admiral Amedee Bienaime, a Paris deputy, thought the French government should use the lever of the Panama-Pacific exposition to bring about an improvement, as complaints to the United States treasury appeared not to reach the American people.

Gaston Thomson, minister of commerce, said the French government was not indifferent to the facts, but the cabinet did not believe French participation in the San Francisco exposition should be subordinated to customs controversies.

ERUPTION ON BABY'S EARS AND FACE

When Two Weeks Old, Caused Irritation, Very Fretful. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Ten Days Ears and Face Well.

Duke, N. C.—"When my baby was two weeks old, behind his ears turned red and caused an irritation and from rubbing it became raw and stayed moistened all the time. At times it would get so bad as to bleed. He was fretful. At the time he was eight months old he was in a bad condition with sores behind his ears and on his face.

"I cared for him using talcum powders and salves and several remedies, though nothing seemed to do any good at all till I got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I at once commenced to wash his ears and face three or four times during the day with the Cuticura Soap, dried them with a soft cloth, then applied the Cuticura Ointment. In ten days his ears and face were well and no scars were left." (Signed) Mrs. Lena Lee, Jan. 2, 1914.

Another Sherlock Holmes Just Found in Atlanta; Here's His First Exploit

The reporter's traditional nose for news "hasn't a thing" on Policeman T. D. Shaw's nose for crime. For, whenever a criminal expert can look at the outside of an innocent-looking suit case, and detect crime therein, even the phenomenal "nose for news" fades into comparative insignificance.

Shaw was sitting in front of police headquarters late last night. He had his eye on John Stokes, colored, a resident of Seventeenth street, and a cook at the Aragon hotel. John carried a suit case.

Shaw looked at the suit case and then called the negro. The negro came up the steps. He complied with Shaw's request to open the suit case. It revealed a small sack of flour, a small ham, a three-pound trout, canned sardines, fruits, sugar and coffee.

John explained that he had got the stuff from his boss at the Terminal Station. Shaw didn't like the explanation, so John had another. His mother had given it to him. Shaw didn't like that one. John gave another. About that time, Manager Tisdell, of the Aragon, telephoned that he had missed a lot of food from his kitchen. He came to headquarters and identified the young delicatessen outfit that the negro Stokes had revealed to Shaw. The negro was arrested on a charge of larceny.
